BY-ELECTION IN COLUMBIA MAY BE MARCH 10

Nominations For Restored Seat in B.C. Legislature Next Tuesday and New Member May Be Returned in Time to Join Members Now in Session

Nominations for the by-election in the restored riding of Columbia will be taken next Tuesday, March 6. It has been settled by provincial order-in-council. Polling, if necessary, will take place on the following Saturday, March 10.

It will thus be possible for the new member to take his seat in the House before the end of the session. Should an acclamation be afforded, he may do this by next Thursday, but if polling takes place he will have to wait another week or two until the final certificate of election is filed.

W. J. McRae has been appointed returning officer for the riding. There are 1,883 votes on the list.

The Liberal Association will hold its nominating convention this Saturday night and is expected to choose Thomas King, who won the seat in the 1932 by-election which became necessary after the death of the late J. A. Buckham, a former Speaker of the House.

Mr. King was runner-up to Dr. H. H. Sutherland for the Liberal nomination for the combined riding of Columbia-Sevestoke in the last election.

General opinion is that the C.C.F. will enter a candidate, and one report states an Independent is ready to enter the field to make a three-cornered contest.

ARMS EMBARGO MOVE BY THE U.S.

Washington, March 1.—The House of Representatives is expected soon to act on the administration measure to forbid arms shipments from the United States to warring nations, which now has the approval of the Senate.

The embargo bill, requested by President Roosevelt and passed by the House last session, was approved by the Senate late yesterday without a word of debate. All objections had been removed by an amendment requiring the President to apply the ban impartially against all parties to an international dispute.

Troops on Duty at Hsinking When He Becomes Emperor of Manchukuo Total 50,000; He Rides Through Streets in Bullet-proof Auto

By James A. Mills, Associated Press Writer

Hsinking, Manchukuo, March 1.—A new dynasty was born to-day under the protecting guns of more than 50,000 soldiers when Henry Pu-yi became Kang Teh, Emperor of "The Great Manchukuo Empire."

A bullet-proof limousine carried him to and from the imperial palace. Barbed wire stockades kept back the throng. Everywhere were the soldiers—Manchukuo and Japanese.

They formed human walls along the five-mile route from the palace to the "Altar of Heaven." For every three Manchukuoan soldiers there was one Japanese trooper in the lines. Thus did Japan, which sponsored the new empire, and Manchukuo itself seek to protect the young emperor from any attempt on his life.

SPECTATORS SHIVER

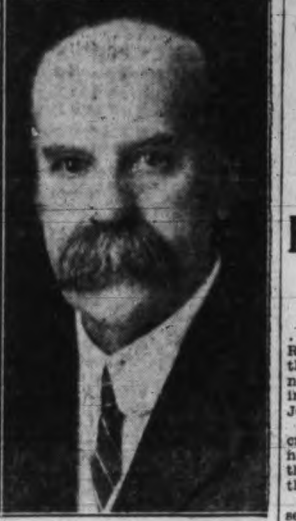

As the "Altar of Heaven" the small handful of foreigners—mostly newspapermen—stood in the required kneeling dress and without hats, shivering as they were forced to stand for nearly two hours on the bare earth at the altar.

The ceremonies, both secular and religious, lasted less than half an hour, though for the spectators there were added the rigors of a long wait. History probably will record the enthronement of the young sovereign as the briefest, most perfunctory and most machine-like ever held.

Except for a few groups of invited Manchus, Chinese and Japanese (who were carefully herded behind the barbed wire stockades, 300

Moral Viewpoint Brought To Bear On B.C. Problems

Must Change Personal and Provincial Outlook, Says Hugh Savage, Independent Member For Cowichan-Newcastle, in Maiden Speech in B.C. Legislature

Calling on the members of the House to regard the province's financial troubles not so much as a political or economic problem but as a moral problem, Hugh Savage, Independent member for Cowichan-Newcastle, who was elected on an Oxford Group platform, this afternoon contributed a thoughtful argument to the debate in the British Columbia Legislature.

"We got ourselves into this mess. We have got to get ourselves out of it," he said. "To meet it we have to change our personal outlook and our provincial outlook. Every British Columbian should ask himself or herself the question: 'What am I doing to help? Am I asking this or that? Am I willing to sacrifice anything for my country?'"

"I appeal to this House and the public of British Columbia to be British," he declared.

SUGGESTIONS FOR ECONOMY

After outlining in a general sense the financial situation of the province with its unbalanced budget and sinking fund shortage, Mr. Savage submitted a few ideas of his own about economy.

The House should be reduced to thirty members and indemnities cut to $1,000, which would save $55,000 a year, "to say nothing of the drop in patronage," he submitted.

The cabinet should be cut to five ministers and salaries cut to $5,000. For another saving of $20,000, "although it is apparent nothing will be done in this direction," he added.

The gasoline tax might be increased if motor license fees were reduced in order to put more cars on the road and increase the returns generally.

"We have only two alternatives, as I see it," Mr. Savage continued. "We must begin progressively to live within our incomes by our own decision, or we must have that decision made for us."

"We have contracted debts at certain rates of interest. We must pay them. We can legitimately ask for deferred or reduced payments only if we give assurance of future living within our income."

Premier Alejandro Lerroux and His Government Hand in Their Resignations

Madrid, March 1.—The government of Premier Alejandro Lerroux resigned suddenly to-day.

Reorganization of the ministry had been considered yesterday evening by Premier Lerroux after it was announced two ministers, Diego Martinez Barrio of the Department of the Interior and Minister of the Treasury Gomez Lara, planned to resign.

Premier Lerroux said a new Premier would be named by to-morrow morning.

The President, in opening conference for formation of the new cabinet, called Senor Lerroux in first. Senor Lerroux explained his position to President Zamora, but refused to resign. He may be asked to form another cabinet.

Congress Asked By Government to Continue Present System For Remainder of Fiscal Year Before Drafting Changes

Associated Press

Washington, March 1.—The United States government's desire to try present monetary plans for at least the remainder of this fiscal year before a fixed policy is determined was conveyed to Congress to-day by Secretary Henry Morgenthau.

Testifying to a House of Representatives banking sub-committee on a bill to establish a central federal authority with sole currency issuing powers, the Treasury head said: "I think this study the committee is making is very worthwhile and important. The country has just come through one of the most difficult financial crises it ever had, and we are just beginning to see a little light."

"It is impossible to tell what the future will be. I believe we need more experience and time to tell us what is the best way to handle monetary problems before we get into anything specific or definite as is contemplated, perhaps, in this bill."

"We hope Congress will give us at least the balance of this year to work on our present plan."

TIM BUCK IN COURT MONDAY

Toronto, March 1.—Tim Buck, Communist, will be brought by two sheriff's officers from the Kingston penitentiary to Toronto Saturday to appear as a witness at the trial of Rev. A. E. Smith, general secretary of the Canadian Labor Defence League, which will be resumed Monday.

The charge against Smith is seditious utterance.

ROOSEVELT IS TO STATE NRA PLANS

Washington, March 1.—President Roosevelt will disclose his plans for the NRA in a personal appearance next Monday before the group meetings called by Administrator Hugh Johnson to hear complaints.

This was made known to-day as criticism was received from a large number of persons who came here at the invitation of Mr. Johnson to air their views.

Significance was attached by observers to the President's sudden decision to address the conference. Some believed the President would give his ideas for the future of the National Recovery Act, as well as take up some of the complaints presented at the invitation of Mr. Johnson.

A stairway to the fifth floor was blocked and no one could reach the Galazzi apartment.

Jealousy Believed Cause of Slaying of Alberta Farmer and Wife

Associated Press

Edmonton, March 1.—Believed to have been insane with jealousy, John Manzak, thirty-eight, Wednesday shot and killed Mrs. Elizabeth, twenty-six, and her husband, Nick, thirty-eight, as they worked in the yard of their farm home near Wildwood, Alta., and then walked into a bush and ended his own life by sending a charge from a 12-gauge shotgun into his head. Wildwood is approximately eighty miles west of here.

Previous to her marriage, Mrs. Elizabeth had been housekeeper at the Manzak farm, and while he was absent from home last fall she married. Enraged, he had threatened death to the couple, and only recently was released from jail where he had served a three months' sentence for his threats.

Mrs. Elizabeth was shot first, police believe, and then the husband was killed as he fled.

Before he killed himself, Manzak notified neighbors of the shooting. Rumors early this morning that Mrs. Fred Demkiew, sister of the slain woman, and her husband, were missing, were ended when police located them at their farm home. It was alleged Mrs. Demkiew also had been threatened by Manzak.

Divorce Appeal To London

Mrs. O. L. McPherson, Edmonton, Carries Case to Privy Council

Canadian Press

London, March 1.—Mrs. O. L. McPherson of Edmonton to-day won the right to appeal to the Privy Council here against the decree of divorce granted her husband, Hon. O. L. McPherson, Minister of Public Works of Alberta.

After three hours of legal argument the judges of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council granted Mrs. McPherson's application to leave to appeal, on the understanding that another appeal by Mrs. McPherson still before the Alberta courts shall stand over until the appeal before the empire's highest tribunal is determined.

AT PRIVATE HEARING

Mrs. McPherson asked leave to appeal on the grounds the decree was granted her husband by Mr. Justice M. T. Tweddle of the Alberta Supreme Court after a private hearing, namely in the judge's library.

This, according to the petitioner's counsel, constituted a serious error in the administration of justice, involving questions of great gravity which the province.

Counsel for Mr. McPherson acknowledged the judge's conduct in not holding trial of the action in open court was improper, but he stated the petitioner had made no complaint for sixteen months. In the meantime Mr. McPherson had remarried. His second wife was in no way a party to the present appeal.

Mrs. McPherson, the former Mrs. L. Farmer of Ashley, Ill., was married to Mr. McPherson in 1908.

Control Board Formed By Employers and Workers Is Urged At Ottawa Inquiry

Commons Business Committee Hears Suggestions From Tom Moore, President of Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, Who Says System Might Be Like NRA of U.S., But Drafted to Fit Conditions of This Country

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 1.—Industrial codes for Canada were proposed to the Commons business inquiry committee to-day by Tom Moore, president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada. Patterned after the United States NRA programme, he believed the codes should be drafted to fit Canadian conditions.

A board of control, according to his plan, would be established within all industries, representing employers and workers, with the Dominion to check its enactments in the interests of consumers. The primary interest of the board would be to crush sweatshop conditions, secure decent wages for employees and combat other unfair and unethical practices, he said.

An industrial set-up of this type would necessitate state recognition of collective bargaining by workers and full control by unions. "The ultimate of this may be socialization of industry, toward which we are going step by step," he said.

QUESTION OF COMPETITION

"We have progressed past the belief that competition is the life of trade and arrived at the conclusion it is the death of trade," said Mr. Moore. "Competition was not necessarily evil, especially when there was a constant check or supervision by the state."

Revision of the British North American Act, Canada's written constitution, to bring it into conformity with 1934 conditions, would be essential to any plan on centralization of labor control, said the Trades Congress president.

Another legislative step necessary before low wages and unfair business practices could be stamped out was use of the Combines Investigation Act to disclose sweatshop conditions. At present it was limited to public utilities but, through enabling provincial legislation, it could be extended to all industries, particularly those receiving government subsidies through tariffs and other means.

WAGE LAWS

Provincial minimum wage laws must be strengthened, continued Mr. Moore. Inspection staffs must be augmented. For instance, Ontario had two inspectors for the whole province, attempting to look after the interests of 77,000 workers. Quebec had seven inspectors for 30,000 employees.

Premier Doumergue Is Made Economy Tariff Dictator, After All-night Session

Paris, March 1.—The Parliament of France, re-elected from long struggle, balanced the budget to-day and, bowing to the insistence of the venerable, determined Premier, Gaston Doumergue, made him a tariff dictator.

The 1934 budget as voted by Parliament to-day indicates a surplus of 9,000,000 francs revenue over estimated expenditures. The latter are fixed at $6,318,570,000 francs, or $3,140,707,050.

The vote on the budget in the Chamber of Deputies was 455 to 132, and in the Senate 284 to 15.

TRADE TREATIES

Just before acting on the budget Parliament granted Premier Doumergue dictatorial powers to effect governmental economies and to manipulate tariffs in negotiating trade treaties.

By these legislative triumphs the seventy-one-year-old Doumergue accomplished within three weeks something four preceding premiers had failed to achieve in bitter parliamentary struggles which began last October.

Observers saw a further indication of M. Doumergue's rapidly-growing power: the fact he was absent when the vote on the budget was reached—and yet members said his influence was correct.

San Francisco, March 1.—Pacific slope wholesale trade stepped out 37 per cent ahead of last year in the first month of 1934. The Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco reports.

The outstanding gain of 118 per cent was recorded by the agriculture implements industry, and other lines all recorded gains of 24 per cent or better. All lines lumped together averaged a bit under the December level, though seven out of twelve lines made gains.

"The increase over the year period was partly the result of higher prices," the report noted, but so far as can be determined from available data, resulted principally from sales of a larger volume of goods."

feet from the imperial procession, there were no spectators. Despite fears an attempt might be made on the life of the monarch, there were no untoward events.

Thus, in rites costing the government 1,000,000 gold dollars to finance, a new empire was created in the ancient domain of the Manchus—with the last of the Manchukuo emperors of China on the throne.

NEW NAME

Henceforth the Japanese-protected Manchurian empire will be known as "Ta Manchukuo" or the "Great Manchukuo Empire."

The twenty-eight-year-old emperor, formerly plain "Mr. Pu-Yi," as administrator of the Japanese-protected state, was given the name "Kang Teh," meaning "Tranquility and Virtue."

Simultaneously with the elevation of the new ruler, his invalid wife, Yuh Hui, was invested with the dignities of queenhood, although her health precluded her participation in the ceremonies.

IN BULLET-PROOF CAR

Owing to fears of assassination the public was barred not only from the religious ceremonies, but from the line of march. The streets were all but deserted when, clad in gorgeous ceremonial robes of silk, in ancient pattern, the monarch entered his bullet-proof car for the journey to the "Altar of Heaven."

There he offered to God successive sacrifices of jewels, silk, grain, meat, wine and sacred rice—thus becoming the "Son of Heaven" and ruling sovereign over Manchukuo's 34,000,000 Chinese, Manchus, Mongols and others.

According to Chinese ideology and practice, the mere act of Pu-Yi's sacrificing to Heaven invested him with "divine authority to rule."

While this impressive ceremony at the altar was taking place, with

Trial Shipment of Rabbits For China Will Be Made Next Week

Sixty Angora rabbits in the form of a sample shipment will leave Victoria next week for China, where it is hoped to create a new market, according to an announcement made this morning by W. G. Bird, vice-president of the British Columbia Provincial Breeders' Association. The animals will be used for breeding purposes and their wool will be clipped for the manufacture of garments.

Considerable optimism is being expressed by local breeders in the chances of establishing a market in China. A large number of Angoras have been shipped to Japan in recent years and the addition of the Chinese market would greatly aid the business here.

Charles Woolley, president of the British Columbia Provincial Breeders' Association, and a well-known judge, will examine all the animals before shipment, to decide on their quality, while the director of Agriculture officials will test the rabbits to see that they are in good health.

Further details in connection with the proposed shipment to China will be dealt with at a meeting of the association at the Y.M.C.A. next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Moral Viewpoint Brought to Bear On B.C. Problems

"Somehow, somehow, the government figures the money is coming from somewhere, some time, we have been spending like a drunkard and, like the drunkard's family, thousands of our women and children are suffering."

"For years we have shown ourselves unfit to govern ourselves. Our accounts prove it. What are we going to do about it? If I suggest bankruptcy, the reply may be that the Dominion has no provision under which it can take over our administration. My reply is, then get on."

The province could get money only by reforming itself and its affairs, he maintained.

SUGGESTS PROGRAMME

Dealing with unemployment, he suggested a programme of reforestation and highway building into the Peace River area, possibly with a system of deferred pay and interest in crafts and trades. He favored insurance against debts, but could not see how it could be properly instituted at present when so many were working.

In connection with the lumber industry, he drew an interesting conclusion on the broad Oxford Group principle of "utter unselfishness."

Seeds of discord between workers and employer would continue to flourish as long as selfishness existed on either side, he maintained.

Minimum wage laws and government interference in industry impose additional burdens on the taxpayer, which includes the very people who have it in their own hands to settle their own differences by reforming themselves and their affairs, he added.

Mr. Savage uttered a warning to the House and the people to wake up to the voice of Socialism as sounded by the C.C.F. and the representation of seventeen to which they were entitled on a proportional representation basis, the people would wake up to the real state of political thought and to the danger which is "absolutely sure, unless they clean house in earnest."

In conclusion, Mr. Savage quoted at length from an address by Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader at Ottawa, during the debate on the C.C.F. resolution last year to the effect that the time had come in world history when men would have to go deeper into their own hearts and are themselves who in the final analysis, it was what was preventing large numbers of human beings from being able to get the livelihood to which they were entitled. He also stated that "the dominant note through the Scriptures is that of the need to effect social justice in human relations," and that "nothing will go so far to help solve this world's problems and remove its distress as adherence to the precepts, principle and teaching which are set forth in the Sermon on the Mount."

Mr. Speaker, honorable gentlemen of this House, are we going to have a session exemplifying these truths set out by a great Liberal, and a great Canadian? Mr. Savage concluded.

The Premier had declared the budget must be voted by March 1. Hence, using an old device, the clocks were

Government Now Has 111,000 Soldiers to Deal With Outbreaks of Violence; Socialist Newspaper, Moved to Czechoslovakia, Distributed Again in Vienna

Canadian Press and Associated Press Vienna, March 1.—The armed strength of strife-torn Austria has been rapidly increasing since the Socialist civil war and to-day the government has at least 110,000 armed men to deal with outbreaks of violence.

During the bitter days of the recent fighting the government issued numerous appeals for volunteers and many responded. The Fascist Heimwehr (home guard) is still conducting a vigorous campaign for recruits.

Latest figures of Heimwehr strength published in the newspaper of Vice-Chancellor Emil Fey—give 68,000 as the number of armed Fascists throughout Austria. The regular army has 30,000 men.

A report from Graz to-day said railroad men who betrayed the Socialists in the Klamm and Walleich, to police had been found slain in a nearby wood. Wallisch was hanged February 29.

Preparations were being made to try imprisoned Socialist leaders for high treason. More than 2,000 Socialists are awaiting trial.

Heimwehr troops again patrolled Vienna streets, with bayonets fixed, and wearing steel helmets.

Preparations were being made to try imprisoned Socialist leaders for high treason. More than 2,000 Socialists are awaiting trial.

The official organ of the Austrian Socialist Party, the Arbeiter Zeitung, appearing in Vienna again to-day for the first time since the civil war, called on party followers to "be prepared" to resume "our fight."

Printed in Czechoslovakia, the newspaper arrived through the mails and was distributed to subscribers by Dolifuss government mail carriers.

It was announced beneath the paper would appear weekly instead of daily.

Dolifuss has conquered "the organ editorialized. "But opportunities for a resumption of our fight for our revenge and for our victory will come."

"The watchword is to be prepared to seize these opportunities."

PREPAYMENT OF TAXES REDUCED

Indications Point to Majority of Payments Being Made By Small Owners

While total prepaid taxes for the first two months of 1934 were $46,412 below the amount for the corresponding period of 1933, the record year, and $6,019 under those for the first fifty-nine days of 1932, the number of people meeting their levy in advance this year was but 108 below the number for the same time in 1933, it was revealed at the City Hall to-day.

On that basis, it appeared the smaller taxpayers were availing themselves of the advantages of the interest allowance for prepayment, while those holding larger parcels of property were delaying.

To date this year about 1,179 have met their obligation in advance, enjoying jointly an interest allowance on the present basis of $10,132. Interest allowed last year was $14,116 on 1,287 payments.

POSSIBLE CAUSES

Reduction in the rate given by the city is regarded as one possible reason for the falling off of payments. A more optimistic interpretation in the drop lies in the belief people are devoting their funds to speculation, hoping for higher returns than the fixed, safe amount yielded under the city plans. Support of that theory is seen in the fact that records over a number of years show prepayment down in good times, with corresponding rises in years recognized as financially more difficult.

The amount saved by the city in interest, through the drop in those making prepayments, together with the cut in the rate, is $2,994, when 1933 and 1934 figures are compared. Interest is given until the final month on which taxes must be paid.

SHAKE-DOWN IN TORONTO PRICES

Toronto, March 1.—Prices were given a mild shake-down to-day in the industrial section of the Toronto Stock Exchange, apparently due to a selling wave on the New York board. Good-year Tire common lost 10 points to 120.

Brasileis on active selling eased 3/4 to 11 3/4, and Ford A sagged 3/4 to 22 1/2. Nickel was off 30 cents at 82 1/2. Steel was finished 4 off at 150. Some distillery stocks dropped fractions at 30 to 35. Westerns common taking the biggest loss. Industrial Alcohol held a gain.

British American Oil finished strong while Imperial International Petroleum and McColl Petroleum weakened 3/4 to 10 1/2.

Bulk stocks held uniformly strong.

"Paper" Donquixote, entering office amid the crisis precipitated by the riots of early February, had the law altered so the expenditures of 43-318,700,000 francs went through on a single vote (instead of chapter by chapter) and the process of passing the receipts was simplified by voting funds for each ministry as a unit, instead of discussing each item.

EXCHANGE DOLLAR TO-DAY AT 99 1/2

New York, March 1.—Canadian and British currencies improved somewhat against United States funds on the foreign exchange market here to-day.

The Canadian dollar improved 1/4 of a cent to 99 1/2 cents. The pound sterling closed at $5.07 1/2, up 1 1/2 cents. The French franc advanced 3/4 point, to 6.57 1/2 cents.

PAY TRIBUTE TO GALLOWAY

Engineering Professionals and Officials Join in Luncheon to Retiring Mineralogist

Members of the civil and mining engineering professions and allied organizations and high government officials representing the various departments of the provincial and federal governments, crowded the luncheon room at Spencer's to-day to take part in the tribute to John D. Galloway, who had retired from the office of provincial mineralogist to enter the private practice of consulting engineering.

Thomas Golby, who presided at the luncheon, spoke of the regret with which all members of the various branches of the engineering professions in the province received the news that Mr. Galloway was leaving Victoria.

"This is not a valedictory to Mr. Galloway," said Robert Smith, Deputy Minister of Mines. "He is rather stepping from the cloisters of the Parliament Buildings out into a career. He is really just starting his career. During his twenty-one years in the department he has carried out his office with credit to the department and to the best interests of the mining profession."

Patrick J. Philip, deputy Minister of Public Works, spoke for the Association of Professional Engineers, and emphasized Mr. Galloway's efficiency as a professional man.

SANE OPTIMIST

"Mr. Galloway is what I call a sane optimist, and we are all glad he is going to stay in B.C.," said P. C. Green, surveyor-general, in a tribute to the speaker in the Corporation of B.C. Land Surveyors.

B. P. Bishop, spokesman for the prospectors' classes, praised the work of Mr. Galloway in encouraging these classes, which aim at bringing about more scientific and intelligent prospecting of B.C.'s mineral resources and which have proved to be such a success.

George E. Winkler, president of the Vancouver Island Prospectors' Association, referred to a quotation from an article in the Victoria newspaper regarding Mr. Galloway's retirement, which said that he had been graduated from McGill University. This quotation Mr. Winkler said, was "An honest and able mining engineer is the noblest work of God."

Mr. Winkler declared there was evidence in his career that Mr. Galloway was a man of high character and high ability. He referred to him as having become a clear and lucid speaker and declared whatever he wrote had the distinctive quality of being worth reading.

"I am not leaving you, as I am staying with British Columbia," said Mr. Galloway in replying to the tributes. "For twenty years with the government has been a most valuable experience and during it I have made many good friends. We are proud that the Mines Department is a first class department and that it is one of the departments of the government free from political influences."

"If I were not an optimist, as Mr. Green says I am, I would not have the confidence of the government in the protection of the government payroll and go into practice as a mining engineer. I am convinced there is great activity in the mining industry in B.C."

Mr. Galloway paid tribute to the late Fleet Robertson, former provincial mineralogist, for the interest he had taken in him as a youth, training him and bringing him up in the work of the department to which he was later to succeed as its head.

W. Newton Elected President of Technical Agricultural Society at Convention Here

Dr. W. Newton, of the Dominion laboratory of plant pathology, San Antonio, was this morning elected president of the British Columbia branch of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculture at the fourteenth annual convention in progress at the Crystal Chapel, W. H. Hill, Department of National Health, Vancouver, was named vice-president, and Cecil Rice, field-crops commissioner, B.C. Department of Agriculture, was elected secretary.

A. F. Barse, University of British Columbia; G. E. W. Clarke, district agriculturalist, Abbotsford, and H. S. McLeod, Dominion laboratory of plant pathology, San Antonio, were named members of the executive.

Reports from delegates attending the B.C. convention held at Regina last year, in conjunction with the grain fair, were submitted, and the representatives' report was read by the Secretary, W. H. Hill, report of the last year's activities was presented to the convention and the officer thanked for his untiring efforts.

Other items of a routine nature occupied the morning session. Retiring President H. B. McArthur presented this year's report as the convention session opened. He spoke of the fine work being done by the association, and thanked the officers for their co-operation during the year.

A number of papers dealing with agriculture and fruit growing were presented, while the report of the British Columbia advisory council on agricultural services was submitted by J. B. Munro, Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

A convention will be brought to a close this evening with a banquet, which is being held in conjunction with the seed show. Cecil Rice, field-crops commissioner, B.C. Department of Agriculture, has charge of the arrangements.

Says Prof. F. H. Soward, If Canada Withdrew From League of Nations

"If Senator McRae is logical in his recommendation that Canada withdraw from the League of Nations, before she is drawn into a European war, he should be fair enough to suggest that Canada withdraw from the British Commonwealth of Nations; for the Commonwealth could not escape taking part in another world war, should one occur," stated Prof. F. H. Soward, B.A., of the University of British Columbia, in speaking before members of the Rotary Club on "The Reform of the League of Nations" at a luncheon in the Empress Hotel to-day.

As to Canada withdrawing from the British Commonwealth of Nations, Prof. Soward said, this country valued too much its traditions to contemplate any such action. But the suggestion of Senator McRae, no doubt, deserved examination, the speaker was clear, as the Senator was so prominent.

"The League of Nations was made by man," Prof. Soward said, "and it can be improved by man. Since 1918 the nations of the world have spent $50,000,000,000 on armaments, and $50,000,000,000 on the League of Nations. Why not reverse these odds, and you will have real reform."

He said the annual budget of the league was less than the cost of education in the city of Toronto.

NATIONAL ISOLATION

"We have only two choices," he said. "To go forward towards international control, or go backwards to national isolation."

Prof. Soward scored the idea that the smaller nations in the league were making most of the trouble. On the contrary, he said, they often smoothed over matters. The representatives of the smaller nations were often chairmen of various commissions and did much for co-operation and conciliation, he said.

"Practically all the important problems facing the league have not been solved because the great powers cannot agree," Prof. Soward said.

The speaker referred to the good work the league had performed during the last year. He said it had settled a dispute in Persia, and also the differences between Colombia and Peru. It had still to settle the Bolivia-Paraguay dispute, and was only about to do anything about the China-Japan dispute because of the inability of the members to back up their decisions. It could do nothing to avert the withdrawal of Germany, the speaker said, but despite the loss of both that country and Japan, the other nations of the world had indicated their faith in the league and it was now the most universal body of kind in the world's history.

LEADERSHIP NEEDED

"Never before in history has there been greater need for wise leadership and for the League of Nations," said Prof. Soward, in concluding his address.

A. S. Averill, secretary of the local branch of the League of Nations Society, introduced Prof. Soward and reminded the members of the Rotary Club of the fine work being done all over the world by the various league societies. He urged the Rotarians to take more interest in the work.

Prof. Soward was thanked for his talk by Duncan McBride.

Industrial Codes For Canada Proposed

Prison sentences for frequent offenders against labor laws such as minimum wage regulations, were suggested by the Labor Congress president. Monetary penalties should be increased beyond the $10 and $20 fines now applicable, he believed.

FACT-FINDING BOARD

Creation of a national economic council, a fact-finding board dealing with wages, hours of labor and general industrial conditions, was another suggestion.

To strengthen the centralized control of industry, a Dominion-provincial board, representing the government, workers and employers, might be established to seek uniform industrial laws.

FEDERAL PURCHASES

Before the committee adjourned for lunch, Mr. Moore, touching on what he termed the widespread sweatshop conditions prevailing in Canada, said the Dominion itself frequently made its purchases from sweatshops.

This was possible through inadequate regulations and legislation governing Dominion contracts which permitted "prevailing wages" to be paid men by successful contractors. There was no standard prevailing wage was fair or adequate.

The Trades and Labor Congress suggested the list eligible for Dominion contracts be limited to firms that paid decent wages and worked their employees fair hours. There also should be check-ups by the labor department on individual firms with Dominion contracts.

SUPPLY OF CAPS

Samuel Factor, Liberal, Toronto Centre, said he had a complaint the Dominion recently purchased caps from a Quebec sweatshop.

Mr. Factor agreed Mr. Moore, due to "prevailing wages" in the industry which the contract called for.

If municipalities and provinces combined with the Dominion in letting contracts to firms which paid decent wages, Mr. Moore said, it would give the movement considerable impetus all over the country.

"VICIOUS CIRCLE"

Earlier in his testimony Mr. Moore said some large retail dealers created sweatshop conditions by demanding goods at low prices. When a manufacturer accepted a low-price order, he drove other plants to reduce wages and cut costs and a vicious circle was established.

"This inquiry will do much to arouse public opinion on the serious social consequences of sweatshops and other unsatisfactory conditions in industry," Mr. Moore believed.

It would be realized sweatshop practices resulting from mass buying had been general in industry.

VISIT TO FACTORIES

"The best evidence of sweatshop conditions would probably be obtained by representative visits to shops," stated Mr. Moore. In that way first-hand evidence could be obtained on the operation of sweatshops. Employees were reluctant as a rule to become before a public inquiry, because they were fearful of the consequences as their jobs would not be safe.

Emerging from the inquiry were the regulations governing the fair-wage clause in government contracts.

CHURCHES SAID
TO USE 'STUNTS'Duke of Argyle Criticizes
Bishops in Three Cities in England

Bristol, Eng., March 1.—The Duke of Argyle, mentioned three years ago as a likely nominee for presidency of the English Church Union, had sent a letter to-day to the Vicar of St. Bede's in which he accused bishops in three cities of trying to fill their cathedrals through stunts.

The Duke protested against a lecture on Communism given last week at Bristol Cathedral by Rev. P. T. B. Kirk, General director of the Industrial Christian Fellowship, and referred to "some vapourings" by Bishop Ronald Eskine-Ramsay of Malmesbury on Socialism and Communism.

The letter said that years ago the Duke had showed some circulars of the Industrial Christian Fellowship to his cousin, the late Duke of Northumberland, and they smiled over the number of "episcopal boobies" listed as patrons.

Stunts of any sort, it continued, are being tried as a means of filling cathedrals, "the bulk of which are bankrupt, and no wonder."

It suggested conditions would be much better if the bishops attended to their "proper business," and added that at no time had the "bench" been so little respected as now.

In conclusion, the letter said Communism, Socialism and Christian marriage had been "sanely and admirably dealt with" by Pope Pius, who knows his own mind and never sits uneasily on a hedgework over things that really matter.

AUTO STRIKERS
RETURN TO WORK

Toledo, O., March 1.—The strike of 3,000 workmen in four automotive parts plants here was ended to-day after the strikers in a mass meeting had voted to accept a truce proposal offered by the manufacturers.

The agreement provides for a general 5 per cent wage increase in all four plants—Spicer, Electric Auto Lite, Logan Gear and Bingham Stamping and Tool Companies.

New York, March 1.—A new system of news broadcasting, designed to give radio stations the benefit of a carefully selected and edited resume of the events of the day and at the same time to protect newspapers from unauthorized use of their news, went into effect throughout the United States to-day.

The plan follows the method now used for some time by the Canadian Press and the Canadian Radio Commission. Worked out by publishers, representatives of press associations and of broadcasting organizations, it calls for two five-minute news broadcasts, no earlier than 9:30 a.m. and 9 p.m., standard time, in the city in which the broadcasting station is located. Each broadcast will be for a period of five minutes and will consist of the "cream of the news gathered" by the Associated Press, the United Press and the International News Service, the three largest press associations in the United States.

FOR ALL STATIONS
Every broadcasting station in the country is eligible to participate in the dissemination of the news report under the plan worked out by the press-radio bureau of the Publishers' National Radio Committee. This bureau, with headquarters in New York and with James W. Barrett, ex-

Pamphlets For Nazis Banned

Ottawa, March 1.—Speaking on behalf of Prime Minister Bennett, in the Commons yesterday, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, said he did not think any occasion had arisen for suggesting the withdrawal from Canada of Dr. L. Kempf, German consul-general.

Mr. Guthrie was dealing with a question placed on the order paper of the House by S. W. Jacobs, Liberal, Carleton Place, Ont.

In view of the fact that Dr. L. Kempf, German consul-general in Montreal, had been distributing pamphlets to people of the Jewish race and likely to stir up enmity and strife in this country against Jews, will the government take appropriate measures for the suppression and confiscation of the anti-Jewish and pro-Nazi literature now being circulated by the German consul-general in Montreal and also for the recall of Dr. Kempf and other officials of the consulate who are responsible for such acts?

Mr. Guthrie told Mr. Jacobs there would be no further issue of publications such as were indicated in the question.

CENSORSHIP
DANGERS SEEN

Washington, March 1.—A new censorship, imposed through the proposed federal communications commission, was foreseen to-day by Senator Thomas Schall, Minnesota Republican.

Mr. Schall's action in predicting "the newspapers of the United States are about to have themselves censored" by federal control of all communication channels through which press dispatches flow, received praise as a "real public service" by the publisher of The Chicago Daily News, Colonel Frank Knox.

Under such a commission, Mr. Schall said, "every press dispatch and every cable message can be censored by the administration. . . . With such a system as suggested by the President not one word of the abridgment committed in Washington could read the people of the United States."

Colonel Knox, from Chicago, declared it was only through insistence of the newspapers that a "complete freedom of the press" was maintained when the newspaper code was formulated under the National Recovery Act.

SAFEGUARDS IN NEW TRADE PACT

London, March 1.—The British government is satisfied the safeguarding clause in the new Anglo-Russian trade agreement will be effective in protecting empire preferences from frustration by any state-aided dumping. Rt. Hon. J. H. Thomas, Secretary for Dominions, told the House of Commons yesterday.

The Duchess of Atholl, Conservative, had asked whether the Canadian government had been invited to give its opinion as to whether the pact would still enable the British government to implement Article 21 of the Ottawa agreements if necessary. This article provides for action against dumped goods with threaten preferences.

Mr. Thomas explained the government of Canada had been kept informed of the progress of the negotiations with special reference to this aspect. He assumed the Canadian government appreciated the British government's care in seeing there would be no violation of the Ottawa agreement.

LOWER RATES ON

Edmonton, March 1.—Hoping to turn prairie farmers from wheat growing to the coarser grained oats, barley and rye, the three governments are seeking freight rate reductions and federal subsidies.

Hon. George Wood, Minister of Agriculture, speaking in the Alberta Legislature yesterday, said the prairie provinces have decided to petition the Dominion government to reduce the freight charges on coarse grain shipped to eastern Canada and British Columbia.

NEW U.S. BAR ON ARMS SHIPMENTS

Washington, March 1.—Within an hour yesterday the United States Senate passed the long-pending administration measure to forbid arms shipments to warring nations; pledged a proposal which asked information on President Roosevelt's war debt plans, and tried vainly to reach an agreement to vote on the controversial St. Lawrence Waterway Treaty with Canada.

The arms embargo bill, requested by President Roosevelt and passed by the House last session, was approved without a word of debate. All objections had been removed by an amendment requiring the President to apply the ban impartially against all parties to an international dispute.

The House of Representatives has yet to approve this change before the bill goes to the White House.

A resolution from Senator Arthur Robinson, Indiana Republican, requesting the President to inform the Senate whether any promises had been made for reduction of war debts and if any recent steps had been taken to collect back payments, was sent to the Foreign Relations Committee.

Montreal, March 1.—Charges of atheism among University of Montreal professors were met to-day with denials by the council of professors and by Monsignor Piette, rector.

In his denial the rector stated appointments of all professors were ratified by Mr. Georges Gauthier, archbishop-conductor of Montreal, and they were sworn in by Mr. Gauthier.

CHURCH LEADER
CALLED BY DEATHRev. Dr. R. G. MacBeth, Ex-
Moderator of Presbyterian
Church in B.C., Dies

Vancouver, March 1.—Throughout British Columbia to-day the death was mourned of Rev. Roderick George MacBeth, D.D., the former moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of British Columbia died suddenly yesterday in his seventy-fifth year. Noted author and lecturer, he was one of the most stout-hearted supporters of the Presbyterian Church in Canada when the movement toward church union was in its early stages.

Funeral services will be held in the Central Presbyterian Church here at 2 p.m. Friday, under the auspices of the New Westminster Presbytery.

Prior to the service the body will lie in state in the church from 12:30 until 2 p.m.

The remains will be sent to Winnipeg for interment.

Dr. MacBeth suffered a stroke some months ago, and although he had regained his health to a certain extent, his condition had not been robust since. Shortly after returning from a walk yesterday afternoon, he complained of feeling unwell and was forced to lie down on a couch. He died almost immediately.

Son of the late Hon. Robert MacBeth and his wife, formerly Miss Mary McLean, he was born in the Lord Selkirk colony on the Red River and received his preliminary education at Kildonan, Manitoba, and Winnipeg.

After teaching in school for a time, Mr. MacBeth entered the University of Manitoba, from which he graduated with classical honors and two medals. He then took up the study of law with Sir Hugh John Macdonald and was called to the Manitoba Bar in 1888.

While a law student, he served with distinction as a lieutenant with the Winnipeg Infantry in the Riel Rebellion of 1885, winning a medal and a clasp.

He held pastorates at Winnipeg and Carleton Place, and in Paris, Ont. He took up permanent residence in Vancouver in 1915, and was pastor of St. Paul's Church for several years.

Dr. MacBeth's published books were written out of first-hand knowledge of western Canada and its people. He was author of "The Burning Bush and Canada," "The Romance of Western Canada," and "Policing the Plains," among other well-known books.

Six feet two inches tall, Dr. MacBeth was the embodiment of the sturdy clergyman who preached among the pioneer settlements.

NOISY SCENE
IN IRISH HOUSE

Dublin, Irish Free State, March 1.—The Daily Eireann was thrown into an uproar yesterday evening as John A. Costello, former attorney-general, pounded his desk and shouted that the Blueshirts of General Eoin O'Duffy would be victorious in their fight against the government.

Costello, who held office in the former government of William T. Cosgrave, was aroused when Minister of Justice Patrick J. Ruttledge made a candid admission that the bill to bar wearing of uniforms other than those of the army and territorial forces was aimed at the Blueshirts.

The bill, up for second reading, was denounced by members of the Opposition.

Ottawa, March 1.—The question of writing down the capitalization of the Canadian National Railways was brought before the Commons yesterday through the medium of a resolution moved by A. E. Munn, Liberal, North Vancouver. Drawing attention to the fact the Royal Commission on Transportation had mentioned the "urgent necessity" for considering the capital structure of the Canadian National system, and the writing down of its capital liabilities, Mr. Munn moved:

"That, in the opinion of this House, it is of vital importance the attention of the board of trustees of the Canadian National Railways be directed to this matter and that this House deems it highly desirable that the said board of trustees shall consider this question and report thereon with the least possible delay as being of vital and primary importance in the interests of all concerned."

The motion was still under discussion when the House adjourned at 6 o'clock.

JAMES HUNTER,
SPOKANE, DIES

Spokane, Wash., March 1.—James Hunter, seventy-two, former of Hunter Brothers Ltd. of Roseland, one of the largest mercantile establishments in British Columbia, died here yesterday.

Born in Oxford County, Ontario, he came to Washington in 1892 from North Dakota, opening a store in a tent at Coulee City. He went to Roseland in 1897. He was head also of the Trail Mercantile Company and of the Hunter-Kempick Company, with stores at Greenwood, Grand Forks, Phoenix and Sandon, B.C. He came here in 1908.

The Hunter estate includes several thousand acres of farm land in northern British Columbia and downtown realty in Spokane. For a number of years he was a director of the Spokane and Eastern Trust Company here.

In 1904 he married Martha Gerlein at Coulee City, who survives him, as do their sons and daughters: James W. Roseland; William B. and Frederick of Trail; Charles R. Burns Lake, B.C.; John Bruce, Seattle; Mr. William H. McKee, Vancouver, B.C., and Miss Bess Hunter here.

Also three brothers and a sister survive him: H. F. Hunter, Chicago; Robert and C. D. Hunter, Vancouver, B.C., and Mrs. Edward A. Taylor, Victoria.

APPLE EXPORT
LIMITS URGED

Kentville, N.S., March 1.—Voluntary regulation of Canada's apple exports to the United Kingdom was advocated yesterday evening by Hon. John A. McDonald, Minister of Agriculture, of Nova Scotia, in an address before the executives of the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association and the Nova Scotia Shippers' Association.

The minister was reporting on his recent visit to Great Britain, on which he investigated market conditions. He had found British growers were seeking an embargo against Canadian apples during August, September and October.

The British minister of agriculture, Rt. Hon. Walter E. Elliot, had informed him a "voluntary scheme of regulation of our fruit shipments would prevent restrictive measures being taken by the British government."

MIGRATION—LATER ON

THE SUBJECT OF EMPIRE MIGRATION was treated to a full-dress debate in the British House of Commons a week or so ago and a resolution was passed in support of the argument that it is now time for the government of Great Britain to get into touch with the governments of the Dominions "with a view to putting forward a scheme for the voluntary redistribution of the white peoples of the empire and the stimulation of shipping and trade under the flag."

Sir Arthur Shirley Bann was responsible for the introduction of this motion and he contended that "if our people could be brought together we have in the empire vast territories which need development, and in assisting in the development of these places we should do a very good thing both for ourselves and for the Dominions." The second of the motion, Sir Henry Page Croft, advocated a conference of members of Parliament from various parts of the Commonwealth. "No government," said Sir Henry, "can father a settlement scheme and see the settler right through. What is needed is that the whole of the work should be in the hands of a corporation or chartered company, whose whole future depends upon the success of the settler, which will equip him, place him on suitable soil and market his crops." His argument is that such a corporation should be able to put the settler on the road to owner-occupation. All he would ask of the Dominions is that they give grants of large areas suitable for close settlement, for mixed farming, and, if possible, in unpopulated areas. In return for such grants Sir Henry says Britain would give the Dominions, at no cost to themselves, "hosts of new taxpayers and consumers."

With the broad principles embodied in the resolution and in the arguments put forward in their support there seemed to be general approval; but two important aspects of the subject were emphasized, first by Mr. W. Lunn, Labor member for the Rothwell division of Yorkshire and a former Under-Secretary of State for the Dominions, and secondly by Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, the present Under-Secretary. Mr. Lunn said if there was one thing that had damaged migration in the years when it was going fairly well, it was the idea of the Ministry of Labor being associated with it. He did not believe that large migration could be successfully carried out by private enterprise. "If we are to provide capital for settlement, let us do it at home," he advised, "for we have plenty of land in this country on which to settle hundreds of thousands of people."

Linking up overseas migration with a domestic land settlement policy, in the opinion of Mr. Malcolm MacDonald, brought into relief the fact that plans for the more intensive development of idle acres in Great Britain would naturally mean a reduction of the possible market for Dominion agricultural produce and, by the same token, a reduction of the possibility of a large flow of migration to the Dominions. He concluded his argument, moreover, with the contention that migration would only be successful when the Dominions were convinced that they were going to benefit from it. It would only be successful when the Dominions were willing to welcome migrants as migrants were willing to go to the Dominions. Indeed, as Mr. MacDonald sees it, and he gave it as his personal view after investigating conditions in the Dominions for his own information, that, just as migration in the past had been largely migration and settlement by infiltration, so in the future settlement by infiltration would be responsible for far larger numbers than would be possible under a scheme of settlement on the community or any other sponsored plan.

To say that Canada has ample room for three or four times her present population is to repeat the obvious; but her domestic economic condition will have to be improved very considerably before she can open her ports to a flow of migration on a large scale under any of the schemes which have been proposed in recent months. At the present time there are something like 700,000 idle workers in this country who have to be kept in food, shelter and clothing at the public expense. Among this number there are undoubtedly thousands who would be glad of the opportunity of getting on the land under liberal settlement terms if only to enable them to produce sufficient to sustain them and a little over to exchange for products of the factory. A back-to-the-land movement already has set in in Canada and it is one which should be fostered by practical assistance. This is not to say that the Dominion has erected bars against immigration. What it does insist upon, however, and must insist upon until new population can be absorbed, is that unless a prospective settler can come out from Britain or any other country, either assured of a job or in a position to maintain himself and his family, if he has one, until he becomes a producer, he can not be admitted.

Those members of the British House of Commons who are familiar with conditions in the Dominions, of course, realize that neither Canada nor any other part of the Commonwealth can hold out any inducement to people who are not prepared to make a profit out of the land at once—and especially when even Great Britain herself is asking several of the Dominions to curtail their shipments of agricultural produce to the British market. When normal conditions return, however, it will be possible to discuss the matter in an entirely different light. Then the demand for more people to occupy our open spaces will be just as insistent as it was a few years ago.

HENRY ACTS HIS PART

THE EXTRAORDINARY PRECAUTIONS taken by Japan to protect her puppet, Henry Pu-Yi, during his enthronement as Emperor Kang Teh, suggest that Tokio has grave doubt about the nature of the reception this attempt to revive the Manchu dynasty under Japanese auspices might have from the thirty millions of Chinese in Manchuria. Obviously, if the people of Manchuria do not want Henry, the dynasty will not last very long, since the cost of maintaining an unwanted institution in this spacious populous country will be so great that in the end it will ruin Japan, especially if another precaution should be a war with Russia. It is just as impossible for Japan to maintain indefinitely the present status of Manchuria as history has shown it was for numerous other conquerors to escape absorption by the teeming millions of China. In a few generations Manchuria will be as much Chinese as ever.

Incidentally, the prospects are that Henry will not be recognized by many, if any, of the other powers, since Japan's occupation of Manchuria has been explicitly challenged by most of them. Even Tokio's staged recognition is subject to the reservation that he must remain little more than the office-boy of the Japanese military commander in Manchuria. All this, of course, is elementary as far as the outside world is concerned, and the ceremonial to-day, therefore, is not likely to be taken seriously anywhere.

A DISTINGUISHED CANADIAN PASSES

RODERICK GEORGE MACBETH, WHO died in Vancouver yesterday, was well known not only in British Columbia but in every part of Canada. He was at one time moderator of the Presbyterian Synod of this province, but he achieved fame throughout the Dominion as a lecturer and writer. His "The Burning Bush and Canada," "The Romance of Western Canada," and "Policing the Plains" are works in which his facile pen responded to an intimate understanding of Canadian life and Canadian aspirations. He was a son of Canada in every sense of the term. He had passed the Psalmist's span of three score years and ten, by four, having first seen the light of day in what is known as the famous Lord Selkirk colony on the Red River. He got his preliminary education at Kildonan and Winnipeg. After teaching school for a time he entered the University of Manitoba, from which he graduated with classical honors and two medals. He then took up the study of law with Sir Hugh John Macdonald, K.C., and was called to the Manitoba bar in 1888. While a law student he served with distinction as a lieutenant in the Winnipeg Light Infantry during the Riel Rebellion of 1885, winning a medal and clasp.

Mr. MacBeth was a fine type of Canadian manhood. He was an expansive outlook on life. Nature endowed him with a mental and physical stature which literally gave him a head-and-shoulders advantage over most of his fellow men. As The Vancouver Daily Province quite rightly reminds us, he was "six feet two inches tall; he was the sturdy clergyman who preached among the pioneer settlements. He was one of the few who saw the buffalo herds wandering in herds within four or five miles of what is now the metropolitan city of Winnipeg; one of the few still who in the same region saw the Indian in his blankets and war-paint, with bloody scalp hanging from his girdle."

Canada can ill afford to lose the like of Roderick George MacBeth. He has gone to his last rest, however, perhaps knowing that his compatriots will genuinely mourn his passing. The Times joins with a large body of public opinion in extending sincere condolences to the members of Mr. MacBeth's family in their bereavement.

WHERE ROYALTY REMAINS

HUMAN HABITS ARE HARD TO change, especially the little, unimportant ones. This fact occasionally causes difficulties for ardent revolutionaries who hope to reform the race.

Consider, for instance, the efforts of the Russian Communists to abolish royalty from the decks of playing cards. Some time ago the party leaders reflected that such anti-proletarian figures as kings and queens should have no place on cards used by members of a proletarian state.

So they designed new decks, using priests, rabbis, and nuns in place of the familiar king, queen and jack—the idea, of course, being to cast further ridicule on religious institutions.

But a current dispatch from Moscow reports that this noble effort is failing. The Russians are used to the old kind of playing card, and they will have no other.

Communism ended real-life royalty, but it seems unable to do much with the kind that exists on pasteboard.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

"AND DID"
The Toronto Star

Praising Mr. Bennett as a man who has the courage to speak the unpleasant truth, the Ottawa Journal says "he could easily paint roseate dreams of prosperity, encourage the chasing of rainbows; the practice might bring him votes." And what other practice did bring him votes when he was seeking office in 1930?

BACK TAXES
The Buffalo Courier-Express

The relentlessness of income tax departments seems the same the world over. The widow of Marshal Joffre is in receipt of a bill for sixty-three cents to apply on his 1907 income tax.

BRITISH BIRD HAVEN
The Christian Science Monitor

A bird sanctuary is to be formed on the little island of Trethian, which lies in Treynon Bay off the coast of North Cornwall, between Newquay and Padstow. The island has been presented to the Cornwall Bird Watching and Preservation Society by Sir Leicester Harcourt, and Harold Harcourt, proprietors of The Western Morning News.

The island was purchased and presented with the understanding that it should be devoted to perpetuity to the cause of bird preservation, and that eventually it should be handed over to the National Trust.

Across the Bay

The electors have a right to be proud of their new Legislature so far—though they may feel a trifle bored by this uniform good sense.

By H. B. W.

NO CIRCUS

PEOPLE who watch the Legislature at work these days are generally bored, for the public, which is always protesting against the quarrels and bickerings of its legislators, is severely disappointed when they fail to provide a free circus. There has been no free circus in this new Eighteenth Legislature. There has been no bickering. There has been no talk of party politics and none of that lusty dredging up of the past which usually distinguishes first sessions. To spectators who come only to see the fun, it has been a wash-out. To Premier Pattullo it has been, at least so far, vindication of his rather ambitious and magnificent statement that this is the most talented Legislature in history. To ordinary fellows, who are concerned about the future of our affairs, it has seemed almost too good to be true.

Wednesday was like that—four excellent speeches without a single word of partisanship in them but with many a sound, constructive suggestion. In fact, yes, but the kind of stuff the electors have been clamoring for these countless years. Now they have got it, one hopes they will appreciate it.

The day started with the solemn and rather depressing formality by which the Lieutenant-Governor, this time without cocked hat and guard of honor, arrived to approve the bills. He came to approve the bill which revives Columbia riding so that, with a remarkable burst of speed and expedition, the new member for Columbia may take his seat before we go home.

HONORABLE MADAM

THE GOVERNOR was quickly gone. Mr. Uphill (who has seemed rather depressed in this grave House) remarked that he wished he could settle his bills as easy as that. The debate on the Throne Speech was then resumed by Mrs. T. Smith, introduced by Mr. Speaker Perry with the new and chivalrous title of "The Honorable Madam."

Little Smith, a charming, comely little lady, is a highly satisfactory representative of her sex in this assembly. She speaks much more ably than most men, clearly, in well-measured sentences and to the point. She showed, too, that she had made a careful study of our laws as they affect women and the young, and what she told us about the whittling down of mothers' pensions below the standard intended by the law, about the strange fluctuation of the pension scale, and about the humiliation of deserving old-age pensioners was not wasted on the House.

She came sharply to the defence of the younger generation, which was no more wicked than its fathers but merely failed to pull down the blinds. Because the older generation has run amok with the economic system, says Mrs. Smith, we should not penalize the young for our folly. Indeed, in the fiercely-competitive world of our making they need more and not less education. And with a lady-like rebuke to a nameless speaker, who must have been Sir Henry Drayton, she observed that our education costs here were lower than in any other western province, though our standards were higher.

FROM KAMLOOPS

NEXT THE HOUSE heard another Carson from the interior. In the election of 1928 the electors sent Ernest Carson down here and left his brother, Bob, at home. This time, the wheel having turned, Ernest was left at home on his mountain ranch and Bob was sent down. The older Carson turns out to be a useful member for his constituency of Kamloops. He delivers a businesslike talk, in crisp, energetic style, with an excellent speaking voice and no sign of a new member's nervousness.

In Kamloops, of course, they have become politically-conscious to a remarkable degree since, last, Mr. Tolmie and Mr. Pattullo were chosen as party leaders up there. Mr. Carson didn't forget to recall the fact, and also many of the other attractions of a city which, Kamloopsans secretly believe, should be the capital of British Columbia.

Mr. Carson's speech, unadorned with fancy ornaments, was packed full of meat and common sense about the problems close to the heart of the whole "dry" belt. He wants a new deal for the man on the land, protection for the fellow who has invested his savings in a farm, as well as for the man who has put his into bonds and produced nothing for the country.

He wants to see the present unemployment relief system checked up and to halt what is becoming in many places something very like a racket. He wants the State to take a larger share of the better developed natural resources like gold mines. He wants to see the government do what every citizen has had to do in the last couple of years—alter its manner of living, get down to a simple life and spend "within its means." Kamloops should be served well by its new member.

FIGHTER

WE BEGAN to get some definite notions of the C.C.F. policy when Mr. Bakewell, of Mackenzie, delivered his maiden speech, quite the best we have heard yet from that quarter. Mr. Bakewell is a red-headed, fighting man, educated, evidently well-read, blunt and perhaps a little too truculent. He waves his arms and glares at the rows of capitalists opposite and keeps in a perpetual state of nervous motion. But his obvious sincerity, the evident truth of a great part of his speech, his constructive efforts and his competent arrangement of material held the House attentively for about an hour.

Mr. Bakewell has got hold of a fundamental economic fact which is more vital to the future of British Columbia than most things mentioned in this House—the threatened depletion of our forests, and the mad way we have been wasting them for years. It burns Mr. Bakewell up to think of this appalling exhaustion of our capital and he doesn't know, any more than anyone else does, what is going to happen to us a few years hence when our capital is gone.

He thinks that such things are inevitable under capitalism, when logging companies must cut and waste, regardless even of loss, in order to pay interest charges. But even under this system, he says, United States loggers have proved that selective logging, with little waste and the preservation of young growth, is more economical than our mass devastation. He would have the government enforce such selective logging here right away.

DIRE PROPHECY

MR. BLAKEWELL has other proposals like state medicine and the abolition of company towns. He rounded them out with the alarming prediction that we shall shortly come upon a time of chaos when elemental passions will thrust all reason aside. To prepare for it we should adopt the reasonable plans of the C.C.F. without delay.

There is a burning, almost fanatical zeal in this young man, who looks as if he has seen some of the less agreeable phases of our civilization at close hand, and had pondered them pretty deeply. There is also a rather bitter, biting streak of humor—"I am not here to throw bouquets, for flowers are too expensive where I come from, in a company town."

P.C.E. FRIEND

A MORE orthodox Labor man, Mr. Tupper, of Similkameen, wound up the day with a master-of-fact talk on the things he understands. As a director of the P.C.E., he gently reproved his colleague, Mr. Murray, of Lillooet, for making fun of the government line. The P.C.E., says Mr. Tupper, a practical railway man himself, is doing all right and the service will be improved this year, and so will the line itself, with the expenditure of $350,000 on maintenance (most of it, one fears, out of borrowings).

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By ALINE MICHAELIS

FOOTSTEPS IN THE NIGHT
 There is a new meaning in the footsteps now that echo through the silence of the street. As though in subtle mode they could avoid their purpose by the measure of their beat.

By day the sound of steps is lost in vast, unceasing clamor of life's changeful scheme. They have but little import, and when past they are forgotten like a jumbled dream. But in the night comes one, unsure and slow.

What lonely wanderer of the dark is he, who cannot choose or does not dare to go with steady tread to meet his destiny? And one comes quickly, eager in the race. With step that leaves behind all doubt and fear.

Youth's ardor throbbing through that rhythmic pace. Youth's stride of triumph, ringing loud and clear!

Of doom's cover cloud of phases new To which they pass with dread or with delight. Of journey done, of visions they pursue. They tell their tales, the footsteps in the night!

AZTEC DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN

TO THE EDITOR:—While we have every sympathy for the underpaid loggers and hope that in the end justice will prevail, at least they seem to have been paid something which, even if not enough to save much out of, enables them to at least keep their self-respect.

We would like to call attention to a far worse injustice and condition. Not more than thirty miles from Victoria there have been men working hard, Sundays included, for their board, and not too much of that. These men put in a hydraulic plant this past summer, nearly all their wages going on a "scrap of paper," the "Lump Book."

When the plant was all in and the men had some hope of securing their hard-earned wages they were told to work for nothing (not even for the time being), or go down the hill. So there was no hope at all of any of them ever receiving anything for their labor. Several of them were foolish enough to refuse to be "blaved" even with a hard winter ahead.

Now it seems to me that while the old Aztecs of Peru indulged in slaves some 400 years ago these same slaves being enemies captured in battle, their captors ran some risk of being hurt to a certain extent before their captives could be secured and put to work, but in this happy country and in the golden age we are living in, the slave owner can secure his human chattels by means of a few glittering promises and runs no risk of being hurt either in mind, body or estate.

been reserved, but the gallery at the far end, behind the pressmen, this session has been reserved in like manner.

Yesterday I was present before the House opened, remaining for some time standing in a very uncomfortable position just inside the entrance, whilst all the time at the far end of the chamber nearly every seat was empty. Inquiring of the attendant as to the reason of this, the "doorkeeper in the House of Democracy" replied: "I don't know, sir, but those seats are reserved for members' wives and their friends."

May I be allowed through The Times to enter a forcible protest against this high-handedness on the part of our "Liberal" administration. Such a procedure has never been allowed even under the most reactionary Tory government we have ever had in B.C. Why, sir, even in the House of God Almighty, after the service has concluded, seats are not "reserved" in this manner even by those who have paid rentals therefor.

It is all very well for Mr. Pattullo to glance up at these empty seats reserved for the "elect," but I might point out that in no legislature in Canada is such an arbitrary attitude adopted towards the public.

Perhaps our "candid friend" Gerry McGeer will be good enough to ventilate this matter. Why should those seats remain empty whilst taxpayers are not allowed in?

SEED AND BULB FAIR

TO THE EDITOR:—Is there anything that can equal the importance of seeds and bulbs? In those two things, seeds and bulbs, is comprised everything that makes life possible as well as most of the beauty of this world.

In a recent letter to the V.I.H.A. the Deputy Minister of Agriculture mentioned the need of public support for the Provincial Seed and Bulb Fair now open at the Crystal Garden. The president and executive of the V.I.H.A., fully recognizing the importance of the fair, desire to urge every citizen of Victoria to visit it, for their own benefit and for the benefit of the farmers and gardeners who are striving to feed and beautify a not very grateful world.

To those who think that the fair has no interest for them, may I point out that the fair brings a good many dollars and cents into Victoria which will be taken elsewhere if our citizens do not show that they value having it here.

FOUR OF NINE FROM VICTORIA

Play Productions in B.C.
Drama Finals Start in Vancouver This Evening

Four of the nine plays of the British Columbia finals of the Dominion Drama Festival opening this evening in Vancouver will be from Victoria. They were selected as the winners at the recent elimination contest held here.

Ellie Cameron's production of Dora Smith Conover's "The Winds of Life," will be the first Victoria production to be staged. It will come on second this evening. Ken MacDonald, Jack Green, Muriel Davenport, William Robbins and Victor Fala, members of the cast, have left for Vancouver. Gladys Sheppard will give her production of "The Shadow of the Nile" on Friday with her cast of Audrey Hadow and Bert Bailey.

On Saturday evening the numbers one and two ranking plays from Victoria will be staged. They are A. M. D. Fairbairn's "Ebb Tide," played by Alan King, Doreen Wilson and Roy Shadbolt; and Ethel Reese Burns' "A Chinese Fragment," played by Noel Cusack, Archie MacCorkindale, George Durban, Gertrude Partridge and Roy Shadbolt. The members of these casts will leave for Vancouver to-morrow.

Rupert Harvey, actor and producer in Britain, will go the adjudicating. He is now touring this country, presiding at regional festivals and selecting the teams to compete in the finals to be held in Ottawa in April under the patronage of the Governor-General.

The adjudicator will give his criticisms after the performance each evening. Last year the Vancouver Little Theatre, presenting the first act of George Bernard Shaw's "Back to Methuselah," won second place for all-Canada in the Ottawa finals.

The programme for the Vancouver festival starting to-night follows:

Thursday, University Theatre: "Boccaccio's Untold Tale," an entry in the Little Theatre; "The Winds of Life," Camosun Players, Victoria; "Birthdays of the Infants," University Alumni Players Club.
Friday, University Theatre: "Dust Into Gold," Women's Canadian Club; third act from "Elizabeth the Queen," Little Theatre; "Shadow of the Nile," Dwarf Theatre, Victoria.
Saturday, Avenue Theatre: "Ebb Tide," Forch House Players, Victoria; "A Question of Principle," B.C. Electric Players; "The Chinese Fragment," Forbes Robertson Players, Victoria.

PREPARE FOR GOVERNMENT

Executive of B.C. Municipal Union to Meet Monday to Arrange Session

To make arrangements for their meeting with the municipal committee of the B.C. Government on Tuesday, the executive of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities will meet in the City Hall on Monday morning at 10 o'clock. Word to this effect was contained in a letter to members of the executive from R. R. F. Sewell, secretary of the union.

Following Monday's meeting, over which Mayor David Leeming is expected to preside, the executive will present to it the brief and resolutions the union passed at its recent convention in Victoria. Members of the executive hope to go through the resolutions clause by clause with the government officials.

Among the more important requests which will be placed before the parliamentary group will be Mayor Leeming's suggestion for the institution of a new income tax to raise revenue which, the resolution requests, would be turned back to the municipalities.

NEW BUSINESS POLICY SEEN

Prof. W. A. Carrothers
Points to Plan of Fair Play
For All at C.M.A. Luncheon

A new twentieth century business policy, based on fair play to all, with industrial forces co-operating with the government to ensure it, was seen as a possibility by Prof. W. A. Carrothers, professor of economics at the University of British Columbia and chairman of the Provincial Government economic council, in an address before the Victoria and Vancouver Island Branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in the Empress Hotel yesterday.

"One of our difficulties in the past has been the giving of too little attention to the problems of productive industry," he said. One of its chief troubles seemed to be the burdens placed on the producers by those who financed the production of industry, Professor Carrothers said.

The speaker referred to the importance of dealing with Canada in the relationship to the rest of the world. While men might boast of Canada's natural resources, only those which had been, were being or were capable of being developed shortly, were important to-day.

He spoke of the development of primary industries and the artificially stimulated development of secondary industry. Canada's main problem was not one of production but one of marketing, he claimed.

Tariffs were great but regular restrictions to trade. But more dangerous were the unknown and artificial restrictions of manipulated exchange rates, he asserted.

Canadians were particularly susceptible to the fluctuations of exchange owing to the international aspect of her trade. The country also had to look to outside capital to develop its resources, Professor Carrothers said, showing Canada's economic dependence on the rest of the world.

NATIONS SLIDING BACK
Turning to a consideration of the world at large, he referred to the individualistic aspect of all nations. This outlook was detrimental not only to the outside nations but also to the country which practiced so-called protective policies. To it could be accounted the reduction in production and employment during the last four or five years, he added, noting countries were sliding down on one another's backs.

The industrial practices of the world, he said, were the time of the war had proved disastrous and useless for the present, he said. Revolution would not take place, he believed, until people had lost altogether their confidence in the leaders. It was up to to-day's leaders to treat their problems from a broad point of view. He referred to a "one-sided" presentation of present troubles given at a luncheon here last Monday, stating economy was not sufficient to meet present needs.

"Ultimately, goods have to pay for goods," he said, adding he believed products would eventually be exchanged on a system of direct barter. Such a system would possibly grow up on a basis of co-operation in place of the competition basis of the nineteenth century. It was not advisable, he believed, to meet changed conditions with the unchanged policies of a former era.

He believed the move of the future appeared to be one towards greater centralization of control of industry. The NRA was a necessary step, he believed.

Professor Carrothers believed business men would not have to contend with legislation, but co-operate with legislation for improved conditions. In view of the change in the world situation since the war, the trend had been towards greater centralization of control. This aimed to develop a greater security on a higher standard of living, the speaker said.

SEEK NEW OPPORTUNITIES
No longer could a "young man go west" to new opportunities as they could a generation ago, he said. It was up to the business leaders to-day to provide compensatory opportunities. No real prosperity could be looked for before purchasing power was restored to the farmer, particularly in the west, Professor Carrothers said. The farmer was a consumer of goods, when he had the purchasing power. The restoration of such was vitally important to the rehabilitation of secondary industries.

He did not see any benefit for Canada, with its individualistic character, in a move for dictatorship. The speaker thought business men would benefit from the setting up of a code. If they approached governments with their codes and asked for the institution of laws to enforce fair play, they would be working along a constructive line.

Governments were not organized to carry on business, but if business men did not carry on, their work fairly, governments might have to go in for it, he said.

J. G. Robson moved a vote of thanks to the speaker, noting he believed all at the gathering were guilty of the selfishness pointed out by Professor Carrothers.

As chairman of the B.C. division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, Mr. Robson stated the association as an organization, deserved to prosper as it served. Many of the association were working with a view to helping Canada on a basis of mutual service.

B.C. PRODUCTS IN ALL CAMPS

Objections Raised Before
Agricultural Committee on Purchasing of Supplies

Seventy-five per cent of the cattle killed in Vancouver is shipped from Alberta, George M. Murray, M.P.P. for Lillooet, told the agriculture committee of the Legislature yesterday. Merchants of the Terminal City had made no effort to promote the sale of British Columbia beef, and as a result there was a very poor market for Ashcroft-raised cattle, he said. Public institutions and relief camps were supplied by Calgary.

Mr. Murray was supported in his views by D. W. Strachan, Liberal, Dewdney, who said it was impossible to get British Columbia products into unemployment relief camps which were administered by the Department of National Defence, acting under orders from the Military District headquarters at Calgary.

P. E. Putnam, Liberal, Nelson, concurred with the suggestion that a strenuous effort be made to supply relief camps with British Columbia products as far as possible.

Hon. K. C. MacDonald, Minister of Agriculture, suggested that Mr. Murray take up the matter on the floor of the House and Mr. Murray promised to do so.

FARMERS ARE MORE HOPEFUL

Getting Along Better With Slightly Improved Prices,
Says Hon. A. C. Rutherford

Farmers of the prairie provinces are now getting somewhat better prices for farm produce and wheat and in consequence there is a distinctly more hopeful outlook for the future, particularly in Alberta, states Hon. Alexander C. Rutherford, first premier of the province of Alberta, who is visiting the city.

"As present market prices the farmer is not in a position to make much money, but he can get along fairly comfortably, and he is making the best of things," Mr. Rutherford said. "If the farmer could be assured of seventy cents a bushel for his wheat, with lower cost of production, he could make a fair profit."

SELECTIVE IMMIGRATION
Mr. Rutherford, who did much in assisting the development of agriculture in Alberta, still is in favor of a controlled scheme of selective immigration, and believes that the right type of immigrant could be easily absorbed.

Many city dwellers are turning to the land under the Alberta land settlement plan and are making good, states Mr. Rutherford. North of the city of Edmonton there is plenty of rich agricultural land within room for communities which could be self-sustaining. Mixed farming is becoming more general in Alberta, and in the Edmonton class of farming has been successfully carried on for some years.

Edmonton, in the opinion of the visitor, would be the building of a rail outlet from the Peace River country to the Pacific Coast. Such an outlet, he believes, would aid in the development of the Alberta capital.

B.C. STUDENTS
Mr. Rutherford, who is Chancellor of the University of Alberta, spoke of the number of British Columbia students at Edmonton taking medical, law and arts courses. For several years, he says, there has been a larger percentage of passes in the Dominion Medical Council examinations from the Alberta University than from any other province.

Reminiscing to-day, Mr. Rutherford recalled that he first visited Victoria in 1889, when this city had a population of about 5,000 and Vancouver was a mere village after the big fire. He remembers traveling from Vancouver to New Westminster with mud up to the axle of the vehicle. He came out over the Great Northern Railway and returned east over the C.P.R., the terminal then being at Port Moody.

There will not be an election in Alberta before 1935, in the opinion of Mr. Rutherford. Asked whether he ever contemplated returning to politics, he said: "No sensible man would care to take political office in these difficult times."

ALBERTA HOUSE VOTE
Edmonton, March 1 (Canadian Press).—With Conservative and Independent groups walking out of the House to avoid taking part in the voting, the government party succeeded in voting down the Liberal non-confidence amendment by 39 to 24.

Professor F. H. Goward, B. Litt., of the department of history at the University of British Columbia will speak before the University Extension Association this evening on the subject of "The International Situation." The lecture will be given at Girls' Central School, commencing at 8.15 o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

The Spanish Liberal Association is making preparations to welcome and entertain the many supporters and friends who have signified their intention of being present at the annual dance in Mountview High featuring the piano accordion. A known orchestra has been engaged, so provide the latest dance hits, featuring the piano accordion. A capable committee of the lady members are looking after the refreshments, and everything points to a most enjoyable evening.

Tribute to the Late Millicent Watt

(Contributed)

There passed away on Saturday last one who will be sorely missed by many, not only on Victoria but also in the far parts of Vancouver Island. Miss Millicent Watt, 437 Constance Avenue, was for five years the special friend of the children of Vancouver Island.

She established on a firm foundation the Sunday School by Post, which has been a boon to many a scattered family, where it gave the only chance for many children to be taught, the Christian faith.

The children and teachers whom she trained will rise up and call her blessed and are themselves a living memorial to a beautiful and faithful religious life. She gave unstintingly of her energy and great gifts, in teaching, lecturing and visiting, especially in the more remote parts of the diocese of British Columbia.

Miss Watt was a graduate of St. Christopher's College, Blackheath, London, England, and held the Archbishop's diploma for theology and a licence to teach theology. Her kindness and hospitality and her service for the church will long be remembered by those who were with her or who came under her influence.

Rouget de Lisle, French royalist, wrote the "Marseillaise," only to hear it as the battle hymn of the opposing revolutionist army.

LITTLE THEATRE PARTY SUCCESS

Klondyke Features Revived at Merry Gathering in New Quarters

A Klondyke party, at which were revived some of the old games and other features associated with gold rush days, and at which the guests wore costumes of varying description, was given by the Little Theatre Association at its new quarters in the former Collegiate School, Rockland Avenue, on Tuesday evening. About 200 members and their friends attended the party, which was an outstanding success, the committee being besieged with requests to stage another similar event in the near future.

The programme, arranged by a committee headed by Jack Barracough, opened with a real old-fashioned melodrama, "Virtue Triumphant," the audience responding to the spirit of the burlesque by groaning over the sufferings of the emotional heroine, and hissing the villainies of the villain. Those in the cast included Gwen Downes, Vivienne Combe, Cleaver Wilson, H. E. Pott and Leslie Hardie.

This was followed by an amusing skit on "Little Eva's Ascension," which created much laughter.

Various games of chance, such as a wheel fortune, roulette, crap, crown and anchor, and other reminders of Klondyke days, had been skillfully made by the committee and, despite the absence of money stakes, caused much fun. A buffet supper was served during the evening.

The occasion served to mark the informal opening of the new quarters of the association, in the symposium of the old Collegiate School. The lower floor presents a professional appearance, with its collection of scenery and "props," while the upper floor is complete with a most professional stage, with arch and proscenium, and a generous sized auditorium.

Rouget de Lisle, French royalist, wrote the "Marseillaise," only to hear it as the battle hymn of the opposing revolutionist army.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRID

SOAP IN BABY'S EYES INCREASES HIS DISLIKE FOR BATH

As a small baby disports himself in his bath, it seems to be a most natural reaction to a delightful experience. All babies should enjoy their baths, but for some reason a baby may hate them. The very night of the tub starts his wails, and despite the most seductive of water toys his shrieks continue distressingly throughout the process. One mother whose grown daughter will not dabble herself above her knees in lake or ocean asserts that from earliest babyhood the girl feared her bath and screamed lustily in it.

HANDLE THEM GENTLY

Let us keep in mind that some babies, more than others, dislike being roughly handled. In the fear that a soaped baby may slip out of her inept grasp, many a young mother clutches him tightly, inseparable to the baby's pain under the tightly pressing fingers. With so many details of the bath to be considered, she may be none too careful of the water's temperature. She thrusts in a hand injured to the temperature of dish water and, finding it nicely warm, plunges the baby into it. One such scalding plunge and baby is forever suspicious of the pleasurable nature of this ceremony. If it happens often enough, he resists it with all his fighting strength.

Soap which may drip from baby's foamy hair into his eyes, too vigorous rubbing of a sensitive skin, hot water, and rough handling are the usual reasons to be blamed for baby's reluctance to be bathed and his angry struggles when forcibly defeated. Send for my leaflet, "How to Give Baby His Bath," enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

STARTING-OVER

If the mother has unconsciously started out on the wrong foot and baby is the victim of this unpleasant set-up, omit tub bathing for a time. Baby's memory is short. If we give him a sponge bath every day with the water just right and no soap in his eyes, he'll forget his fears of the tub. In a month or so we may return to it, being careful this time to avoid every act which would detract from his sheer pleasure. Fitting a bath towel over the top of the tub to hide the water, we may allow baby to sink into the pleasantly warm depths with no fear of consequences. There are numerous ways to manage peacefully what should be one of baby's joyous daily experiences.

Diamond Colors!

Every teacher of Household Arts knows what they mean

Is there a difference in dyes? Ask any teacher of Household Arts! "I always use Diamond Dyes in my class work," one successful teacher says, "because no other dyes give such color beauty." The reason is this: Diamond Dyes actually contain a greater amount of the finest aniline coloring. That's why materials "take" Diamond Dyes so evenly. No spotiness or streaks. No dull tones, no off-pinks. Lustrous, fine color—just like new material. Have the beauty of Diamond colors in your wardrobe, your home furnishings. For permanent dark colors by boiling, use Diamond Dyes. For light shades without boiling, use the lovely new Diamond Tints. All drug stores have them. 15c.

She advocated every opportunity should be given at school to develop definite talents and abilities a child proved it possessed. In higher grades children should be taught what offered in those occupations for which they showed aptitude. This vocational guidance would lead to greater industrial happiness for workers and fewer industrial failures. Mrs. Smith said in a plea for greater educational and vocational guidance. Rather than lower educational facilities, the speaker said she would like to see them extended and the school age extended beyond the age of fifteen years. Higher standards were constantly required as they entered the labor market, and fifteen years was not enough.

Mrs. Smith wanted also to see education placed on a more sound financial basis and not be at the mercy of a rise and fall in the stock market. She wanted to see the children of a depression period get exactly the same opportunities as the children of a prosperous era.

Woman Legislator Champions B.C. Social Services

Regrets Financial Stringency Has Caused Curtailment; Offers Suggestions For Mothers' Pension Improvements and Voices Striking Defence of Youth of To-day

Social services and a sterling defence of the youth of the present day featured the opening speech of Mrs. Paul Smith, Liberal, Vancouver-Burrard, the lone woman in the B.C. Legislature, yesterday. Extension of educational guidance and vocational direction were also advocated by Mrs. Smith. Regret was voiced that financial stringency had caused some social services to be reduced.

In opening, Mrs. Smith expressed thanks to the members for the cordial reception given her and recalled the term of office of Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, the first woman to sit in the Legislature. "It is not easy to be a pioneer in any field," she commented, "and to Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith we owe a great deal for her work in voicing the views of the women of British Columbia in the House."

Mrs. Smith proceeded to discuss social services and education. "Since we have social services and have become accustomed to them, we must ask if they can be afforded," she commented.

"As long as there is inequality in distribution of a world's goods, the answer must be in the affirmative." They helped place purchasing power in the hands of the people who otherwise would not have it. How social services could effectively be administered federally was briefly touched upon by Mrs. Smith.

MOTHERS' PENSIONS

Mother's pensions were cited by Mrs. Smith with a reference to the fact that British Columbia was the first to adopt them. Pointing to the advantages of home training compared with institutional training, the speaker commended the legislation but regretted that through financial stringency some social services had had to be curtailed. The maximum pension had been so drastically reduced that in some instances it was less than the allowances that could be secured from other sources. Reductions at a time when living costs were rising was particularly to be regretted.

Mrs. Smith urged every attention be directed to keep down administration costs so that more of the money set aside for pensions could be distributed to beneficiaries. The cost of the pension when a child reached the age of sixteen years was touched upon by Mrs. Smith, who drew attention to the fact that in these times children at sixteen years of age were not able to get the positions anticipated and become the help to the family it was hoped they would be. For this reason, said Mrs. Smith, widowed mothers became worse off as their children grew up.

WIDOWS' INSURANCE

The speaker believed a solution might be found by permitting any insurance the widow might be in receipt of being placed in a trust fund to be paid to her at the expiration of the pension. The present system, she said, was not satisfactory only when the insurance money had been spent. This fact also tended to discourage the man on small salary from taking out insurance on the grounds that it would damage his widow's chance of receiving a pension.

The old age pensions act was touched upon by Mrs. Smith, who criticized the section which called for sons or daughters of pension applicants to prove in court they were unable to support, or partially support, aged parents if challenged on the point. She thought it would be better if the board assumed the responsibility for these inquiries and collections.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF YOUTH

The speaker touched on the lot of young people who were unable to obtain employment in these times. It was particularly hard upon them when their characters were in the formative stage and she hoped that through a scheme of employment insurance something would be done to help take over industrial failures in the industrial world. Mrs. Smith expressed her faith in modern youth and took issue with those who deplored it.

"Youth is no worse than the youth of our fathers. We merely fail to pull down the shades," she said, offering from modern youths' standpoint a quotation to support her claims. There was no more reason to find fault with the youth of today than there was with the youth of any other age.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

She advocated every opportunity should be given at school to develop definite talents and abilities a child proved it possessed. In higher grades children should be taught what offered in those occupations for which they showed aptitude. This vocational guidance would lead to greater industrial happiness for workers and fewer industrial failures. Mrs. Smith said in a plea for greater educational and vocational guidance. Rather than lower educational facilities, the speaker said she would like to see them extended and the school age extended beyond the age of fifteen years. Higher standards were constantly required as they entered the labor market, and fifteen years was not enough.

Mrs. Smith wanted also to see education placed on a more sound financial basis and not be at the mercy of a rise and fall in the stock market. She wanted to see the children of a depression period get exactly the same opportunities as the children of a prosperous era.

WOMAN M.P.P. GETS "FAN" AND "PAN" MAIL

Mrs. Paul Smith, M.P.P., the only woman in the B.C. Legislature who addressed the House yesterday, voiced an eloquent plea for the continuance of social legislation. Mrs. Smith briefly referred to the many letters newly elected members of the Legislature received. "I put mine in two classes," she told the House. "Some I class as 'fan mail' and some as 'pan mail'."

Woman "Lawyer" Hitch-hikes East

Seattle, March 1.—Mrs. Edwards K. Baltuff-Harris, Tacoma mother and self-taught lawyer whose lone fight in federal court for custody of the youngest of her four children has gained her considerable attention, has successfully hitch-hiked back to Washington to press her case further, friends learned today.

Notified she must appear before the District of Columbia court of appeal on March 5, she had but $10 to finance a trip east. However, she started out and made the trip on the highways in twelve days, she wrote. The boat was confiscated by the government as a rum runner, but she claimed ownership on the contention it was awarded her under a divorce decree from her former husband before it was seized.

Lady (Richard) Lake Reviews Year's Activities at Annual Meeting

Diocesan Board Hears Encouraging Reports of Departmental Work

There was a specially large attendance of members when the afternoon session of the annual meeting of Columbia W.A. opened yesterday in order to hear the address of the president, Lady (Richard) Lake, the chair being taken at 2:45 o'clock by Mrs. F. J. Brimer, first vice-president, following intercessions led by Mrs. W. H. Belson.

Lady Lake expressed the deep thankfulness of all that Bishop Schofield was now sufficiently recovered to have been able to take the service in the morning, and sympathy was expressed with him and with Mrs. Schofield in the trying period through which they had passed. Reference was made to the encouraging reports of the progress of the restoration fund, and the hope expressed that when that objective is met, the W.A. will be able to go forward and extend much needed work.

ENCOURAGING REPORTS

The Diocesan department, through all this difficult time, has, the president said, sent hundreds of bales of warm clothing for prairie relief, not only bringing comfort to "bodily needs" but carrying a message of Christian love and friendship to brothers and sisters in sore need. The survey of work done both at home and overseas showed many encouraging features, and the missions in this diocese for Orientals and the Columbia coast, are well supported by the W.A.

After paying a tribute to the valuable work of the retiring officers, Lady Lake closed with an earnest injunction to each member to work for world peace.

On behalf of the meeting, Mrs. Brimer expressed the thanks of all to Lady Lake for her life and inspiring address, and presented her with a sheaf of spring flowers from her executive, which the president acknowledged with gracious words.

PLEDGE MET

The report of the diocesan treasurer, Mrs. J. R. Hartley, followed, and the branch treasurers were complimented on their excellent work. The pledge was met, thanks to the untiring efforts of all the branches, and diocesan needs provided for.

Two matters for consideration by the meeting were the raising of a sufficiently large delegates' fund, and the jubilee fund, which is far below its objective. Several delegates advanced suggestions which it is hoped the branches will be able to carry out. The "extra cent" fund report showed that more appeals were met through this fund than in any previous year, and more branches have taken the fund in hand, and are contributing to it. Mrs. Bengough was pleased to report.

CLOTHES FOR NEEDY

The Diocesan secretary's report showed a great deal of interest. Miss Still being given a tribute of rousing applause at the close. The outfits for twenty pupils of the residential school at Alert Bay were announced complete; the overseas bales received the special commendation of Miss Millicent Wright, convener. The Christmas cheer was more extended than ever and the bales of prairie relief weighed 2,254 pounds, in which the value of new garments amounted to $113.71.

The report of the united thank-offering was given by Mrs. Mayo in a very impressive and informing way, a special cause for thankfulness being that the girls' branches are now included in the subscribers.

The report of the girls' secretary, Mrs. H. V. Mills, was full of interest, but will be dealt with at their own annual meeting on Friday evening, which senior members were urged to attend, to show interest, and to encourage the girls in their work.

The educational department was reported by the secretary, Mrs. W. Llewellyn, who had a fine display of literature, including several of the latest books, also the new study book, for sale. The W.A. library is open every day during the sessions, and during the year forty of the latest books have been added, also 475 church calendars sold.

The report of the Church Embroidery Guild was given by Mrs. Greenway, and a surprisingly long list of articles made during the year was reported. A letter of sympathy was sent from the board to Miss Edith Ravenhill, in her long and painful illness.

The meeting approved the resolution that a printed report of the annual meeting shall be compiled and distributed as soon as possible after the annual meeting. A standing tribute to the life and work of the late Miss Millicent Watt was read by the secretary, and sympathy will be expressed from the board to her relatives and friends.

TO-DAY'S SESSION

At this morning's session, Rev. N. E. Smith of St. Barnabas Church, opened the proceedings with a devotional address on the subject of brotherly love and sympathy. Mrs. Katherine Robbins, a missionary on furlough from China, was welcomed to the platform and introduced by the president.

The routine business, officers' reports and discussions were continued, and Rev. F. Conley gave an interesting address on "Indian Work at Alert Bay."

An invitation to hold a meeting of the Diocesan Board as guests of the Columbia branch this year was received and the meeting expressed willingness to accept the invitation. The noon hour prayers were conducted by Mrs. J. Dixon, the meeting adjourning till Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

Strike Agitators May Deprive British Columbia of Its Preferential Market for Lumber

Logging camps are now tied up by strikes, fomented by strike agitators. These strikes may result in preferential treaties being wiped out and British Columbia being deprived of its greatest lumber market—the UNITED KINGDOM.

What British Columbia loses, Russia gains.

Logging is a basic industry. Its business is to supply logs to the Province's greatest industry—LUMBER. The cost of log production governs materially the competitive position of B. C. LUMBER when sold in the world's markets.

The following tables and comparisons are given in answer to the purposeful misrepresentation of facts and to enlighten those who have been misled by this propaganda as to the true state of affairs in the logging industry. It is also hoped that these same figures and facts will serve to impress upon the public in general the odds confronting the producer, investor, and loyal worker, in the industry, who are fighting to-day to keep the home fires burning until the return of normal conditions.

The agitators claim—

1. That log prices are back to the 1928 levels. The following table of log prices by years since 1924 answers this.

AVERAGE LOG PRICES

(Based on all actual sales reported through the B.C. Loggers' Association, representing 65 to 70 per cent of log production for the open market.)

Year	Fir	Cedar	Hemlock	Average All Species
1924	$16.80	$18.57	$11.41	$16.68
1925	14.98	18.08	9.98	15.52
1926	14.92	15.95	11.02	14.54
1927	14.71	14.45	9.56	14.20
1928	14.58	15.59	10.48	14.24
1929	14.86	16.99	10.20	14.67
1930	13.82	11.13	9.19	12.88
1931	11.04	8.62	8.95	10.46
1932	9.31	8.62	8.42	9.10
1933	9.60	10.01	7.18	9.53
1934	11.56	8.96	7.29	10.76

Reduction average log prices 1928 to 1933, $4.71 or 33%.

Reduction average log prices 1928 to Feb. 15, 1934, $3.48 or 24%.

*Note:—1925 was the year when the Minimum Wage of 40c per hour was made a statutory requirement in the British Columbia lumber industry. The eight-hour day became legally effective in 1925, setting the standard wage for common labor at $3.20 for eight hours, when log prices averaged $15.52.

2. It has been publicly acclaimed and reported by the press—
 - (a) That the present scale of wages is nothing more or less than a "racket" on the part of the Logging Association;
 - (b) That the boss logger is taking advantage of the depression to secure labor at starvation wages;
 - (c) That wages to-day are one-half of what they were in the year 1928.

The following table, together with a comparison of these figures with log prices shown in Table 1, indicates that the glib epithet "racketeer" should not, in all fairness, be applied to the B.C. Logging Industry. Tables 1 and 2 show that wages had not been reduced in the same proportion as log prices had declined to in 1933, and that increases given in 1934 and subsequently granted under the Department of Labor scale, have more than kept pace with the improvement in log prices.

COMPARISON OF LOGGING CAMP WAGES

Elk River Timber Co. Ltd., Bloedel Stewart & Welch Ltd., and Thomsen & Clark Timber Co. Ltd.

	1928	Date of Strike	Scale Proposed By Department of Labor
Maximum	$9.00	$6.00	$6.50
Minimum	3.20	2.20	2.75
Average	4.80	3.79	4.13
Percentage of reduction in wages from 1928	21		13.9
Reduction in price of logs from 1928 to date			24.4%
Reduction in board and lodging charges to employees in above camps during this period, from 25 to 50 cents per day.

Through the influence of agitators the strikers have not accepted the wage scale and other conditions recommended by the Department of Labor as a fair basis for resumption of work.

The undersigned companies hereby accept the wage scales and conditions proposed by the Department as a basis of settlement, realizing, however, that unless better conditions in respect to lumber values, materialize, the concessions granted will simply add to the present operating losses.

The statement was made by one of the agitators before the Vancouver City Council on February 21, that the logging operators are now receiving $19 and $20 per thousand feet for their log production and making 480% profit.

The facts regarding present log prices are given in Table No. 1. The top price for No. 1 grade Fir logs to-day is $19, but actual percentage of No. 1 grade logs produced in British Columbia is comparatively small, and the average of all sales, for the first six weeks of 1934, it will be noted, was only $10.76.

The scaled production of logs in the Vancouver Forest District, by grade and species, for the year 1933, based on government scale, is given hereunder:

Species	Footage	Percentage of Grades
		No. 1 No. 2 No. 3
Fir	495,512,891	5% 71% 24%
Cedar	240,570,564	9% 54% 37%
Spruce	37,600,553	3% 55% 42%
Pine	6,107,937	3% 70% 27%
All species		7% 65% 28%
*Hemlock	221,062,116	Ungraded
*Balsam	59,861,088	Ungraded

It will be noted that the average percentage of No. 1 grade, all species, was only 7 per cent.

*Note—Hemlock and Balsam logs are not graded in British Columbia.

At the date of this issue No. 2 grade Fir is selling for $14, No. 3 grade for $9, while Cedar, camp run (all grades), is bringing from $7.50 to $8.50, Hemlock from $7.25 to $7.75. Average of all sales reported through the B.C. Loggers' Association for the year 1933 (see Table 1) was $9.53 per thousand feet, and, as stated, for the first six weeks of 1934, $10.76.

NOW AS TO PROFITS:

In 1928, which the agitators cite as the banner year for the industry, a certified audited profit and loss statement, presented to the Provincial Government by the principal operators in royalty bearing timber, showed that on a production of 626,000,000 feet, a profit of 4.93 per cent was made on actual net investment.

It is significant to note, however, that from the same log production the government received in royalties and scaling fees, $628,000 from the same companies, as against the operators' return of $421,000—the government return, on a percentage basis of the operators' net investment, being 7.4 per cent as against the operators' 4.93 per cent.

The net loss to the three undersigned companies in 1933 was $285,296.51 on a production of 240,000,000 feet.

Why is it that, coincidental with the reduction of Russia's imports of lumber into Great Britain, strike agitation became active in the logging camps of British Columbia?

This strike is directed by the Lumber Workers' Industrial Union, formerly known as the Lumber and Agricultural Workers' Union, an organization affiliated with the Workers' Unity League, a Communist organization declared illegal in a Saskatchewan court December 2, 1931, and of whose avowed constitution and purpose the Dominion Department of Labor Report for the calendar year of 1931 quotes the following in part:

"To organize the Canadian workers into powerful revolutionary industrial unions, created on the axis of the widest rank and file control; to fight for the defence and improvement of the conditions of the working class, mobilizing and organizing Canadian workers for the final overthrow of capitalism and for the establishment of a Revolutionary Workers' Government. Towards this end, the Workers' Unity League of Canada lays down the following organizational structure:

"In all campaigns unemployed workers must be organized and their activities linked up with the general activities of the revolutionary working class struggle. The unemployed workers must become an integral part of the revolutionary working class movement."

It must be obvious to thinking people, that the ultimate effect of the present logging tie-up, if it continues, will be the transference of payrolls, and expenditures for supplies, etc., from British Columbia to Russia. The magnitude of these are perhaps not generally realized, but it may be gauged from the fact that during the years 1921 to 1933, inclusive, two of the companies signing this statement, paid out the following:

Gross payrolls and salaries paid in British Columbia	$13,890,164.15
Supplies and purchases	9,394,756.25
Plant and equipment of capital nature	2,622,818.44
Royalties to government, scaling fees	2,106,420.82
Taxes of other kinds	1,213,656.49
Total	$29,227,816.15

Through the years of depression, confronted with steady losses, the logging industry of British Columbia has carried on and maintained as high a quota of production as world competitive conditions have permitted, and with great benefit to the coastal cities and communities of British Columbia.

Given an even break and fair treatment, the industry will continue to be a constructive force in the Province's industrial life, BUT, and there's a warning in this, controlled by Communist agitation, the lumber industry of British Columbia must inevitably give way to more stable world lumber producers, and become a minor factor in the economic scheme of things in this Province.

Mayor Opens Smart Automobile Display

Attractive Models Shown This Week at Armories; Good Entertainment By Talented Musical Family

"I am told the automobile business in Victoria is picking up," said Mayor David Leeming yesterday afternoon before a large number of people. "I think this increase in business can be taken as a sure indication of returning good times. Personally I would like to see the streets of Victoria full of new cars."

The Mayor, after a tour of inspection of the building, was introduced by Aubrey Jones, manager of the show, who also introduced James Wood, head of the Automobile Dealers' Association of Victoria, and Col. Aubrey Kent, who said the Sixteenth Canadian Scottish Regiment and the Fifth B.C. Coast Brigade were happy to co-operate with the automobile dealers of Victoria.

Mayor Leeming said he had hoped to see some of the latest and most extreme stream-lined models, but had been told they did not reach the city in time for the show, but would be along in a few weeks. He wished the dealers of Victoria increasing business, and the show much success.

GOOD ENTERTAINMENT
The platform, which was attractively decorated with greenery and great masses of spring blossoms, was then handed over to the six members of "The Musical Calangis Family," who proceeded to perform on their stringed instruments. La Ciolina, a clever Spanish dancer, was the assisting artist. Members of this family, comprising five girls and one boy, are extremely talented and play practically all stringed instruments. Attired in Spanish costumes, the members of the troupe lend a colorful splash to the show room.

The show itself was noticeable for the absence of the larger and more expensive cars, and there were no roadsters, and only one touring car, denoting that the motoring public prefers the medium priced cars. The large limousines, and the roadsters of course, may still be ordered through the dealers, but few agents in Victoria have them in stock.

The Jameson Motor Company had six models on display, three smart Studebakers, two Terraplanes and a Hudson. The Studebakers stood out for their colors, the deluxe coupe being of cloud mist grey; the custom sedan of crown maroon; and the larger sedan of light seagull grey.

DODGE DISPLAY
There were three Dodge models and four Plymouth models on the display entered by the Best-Motor Company. There was a deluxe Dodge, a smaller Dodge sedan, and a trim roadster, with a rumble seat. The latest de Soto and Chrysler models, which are also handled by the Best company, did not arrive in time for the show.

Three new British Austin models are exhibited by the Thomas Plimley Company. They are a small tan car, a light delivery truck, in a brilliant red, and a deluxe model in black, with dark blue leather upholstery.

The Buick, a strong, powerful-looking car, with all the latest comforts and conveniences, and the trimmest and most graceful of lines is exhibited by the H. A. Davis Motor Company.

went the honor of displaying the only touring model in the show. This is a five-passenger Ford car, in light tan, with tan leather upholstery. It is a smart car, and attracted much attention. The National Company also shows a trim Tudor Sedan, a coupe with a rumble seat and has a chassis on which the engine is shown operating.

CHEVROLET MODELS
There are five Chevrolet models, shown by The Motor House. These included a sports sedan, a large roomy car, comfortable and smart, a sports coupe, a five-passenger sedan and a standard coupe with a rumble seat. The Chevrolet was among the most discussed cars at the show, for in the last few years it has grown from one of the lighter, plainer cars to a heavy, dignified one with fleet lines and all accessories and luxuries. The show will remain open to-day, to-morrow and Saturday, the doors opening at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and closing at 11 o'clock at night. Musical attractions have been planned for each day. The main hall of the Armories is smart with its flags and bunting and enormous masses of spring blossoms. With good musical entertainment, a display of hand-some cars, and other attractions, the show should draw thousands of Victorians during the balance of the week.

CONFIDENCE IN CONFERENCES

Kamloops Liberal Has Faith in Government Ability to Find Solutions

Firm confidence in the Pattullo Government's ability to find solutions for the immediate and pressing problems of British Columbia was expressed in the House yesterday by R. H. Carson, Liberal, Kamloops, in the debate on the speech from the Throne.

He traced, roughly, the action already taken by the new administration to create a national viewpoint in tackling the troubles, including the conference of Western Premiers and the Ottawa meeting.

"I think the future will show these conferences to be of great value, and we should congratulate the men who represented us on the manner in which they conducted themselves," he said.

Mr. Carson reviewed comprehensively the troubles of his own district of Kamloops, which he mentioned as the town in which Premier Pattullo was born.

RELIEF HANDLING

His first complaint had to do with the administration of relief. Men in the district who took an occasional odd job to earn an extra dollar were criticized and sometimes in fear of being struck off relief.

NOTES OF LEGISLATURE

G. G. McGeer, K.C., Liberal, Vancouver, was expected to adjourn the debate on the speech from the Throne to-day and will thus have the floor first thing to-morrow.

Preparations for night sessions of the House will be made Monday. While this prerogative may not be exercised at once, it will have the way for speeding up the session when the budget is brought down.

"I do not rise to throw bouquets across the floor of this House. I come from a town where flowers are expensive—you have to buy them at the company store," was the way Ernest Bakewell, C.C.F. member for Mackenzie opened his speech.

The opening reflected the general tenor of his speech in which he brushed aside customary compliments and aggressively presented the C.C.F. viewpoint and told how they would handle affairs if they were given the opportunity.

Mrs. Paul Smith's maiden speech in the House, appropriately like those of her namesake and first woman to be elected to the Legislature, Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, mainly dealt with social legislation.

She is a clear concise speaker, plainly heard from any part of the House. Every seat in the ladies' gallery was taken by women anxious to hear her representative.

The exceptional interest which has marked this session continues with the galleries packed again yesterday.

Dr. J. J. Gillis, Liberal, Yale, whiplash, who has been absent through illness, made his first appearance in the House yesterday.

The private bills committee, through A. M. Manson, K.C., the chairman, reported to the House yesterday on two petitions for private bills and the measures were then introduced.

Gordon S. Wismer, second member for Vancouver Centre, is piloting the Vancouver City Incorporation Act amendment which provides power to that city to tax waterfront industries.

L. Arnold Hanna, Coquitlam, is piloting the bill under which Herby Harrison is seeking legislative authority to practice law in the province.

The committee will hold hearings on the bill next week. Mr. Manson said it was the desire to get this business out of the way as quickly as possible, as some of those on the committee were also members of other important committees which had considerable business to transact.

The petition of the Canadian Northeastern Railway for a private bill amending its charter was received by the House yesterday.

Members saw the first law of the new Legislature placed on the statute books yesterday when the Lieutenant-Governor came to the House to sign the bill re-establishing the Columbia riding.

"I wish I could settle my bills as easily as that," Tom Uphill remarked as the Lieutenant-Governor left.

The railways committee of the Provincial Legislature met at 10 o'clock yesterday for organization purposes.

D. M. MacKay, Cariboo, was named chairman and Clive Plante, Peace River, secretary. Members of the committee are: Byron Johnson, Victoria; H. C. E. Anderson, North Vancouver; Dr. W. H. Sutherland, Coquitlam; and Charles H. P. Tupper, Similkameen.

In reply to a question submitted by Jack Brown, C.C.F. Vancouver East, Premier Pattullo said the government had received no resolution from the Vancouver City Council in regard to so-called city company towns in British Columbia.

The Campbell River loggers' strike will be brought officially to the attention of the House in questions to be asked to-morrow of the Minister of Labor, by Harold E. Winch, C.C.F., Vancouver East, as follows: Was a complaint lodged with the department by the loggers in the employ of Bloedel, Welch & Stewart as to short scale on piece-work? If so, was a government scaler sent in to investigate? If one was sent, what was the percentage of increase, if any, in scale found by the government scaler? Is the scaler employed by this company a licensed scaler under the Forestry Department regulations?

The name of Gordon Wismer, Vancouver Centre, has been offered as an addition to the private bills committee of the Legislature.

Dr. J. A. Harris, South Okanagan, has been proposed as member of the agricultural committee.

Dr. Harris' suggestions for turning British Columbia grower into non-perishable commodities, which included brandy made from apples and fruit, preserved products, given as a result of scientific investigations, were listened to with interest by the House and will probably form the subject of inquiry by the committee.

Druggists of British Columbia, who every year for several years have sought to get an act passed governing their profession, will endeavor to get their bill launched again on its way Wednesday.

C.C.F. READY SAYS MEMBER

Ernest Bakewell Tells Legislature How His Party Would Handle Problems

Ways in which the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation would deal with three of British Columbia's problems were outlined by Ernest Bakewell, C.C.F. member for Mackenzie, in the debate in the House yesterday afternoon.

To aid agriculture, he said, the party would aid the formation of producers' and consumers' co-operatives.

Health services would be handled by state control of medicine along the line of the Swedish system.

Lumbering would be put on a selective basis as the most profitable, without alienation of resources to foreign interests.

"NOT BLOODTHIRSTY"

"Our plan, you see, is not so terrible and bloodthirsty," he declared. "Since the old-line parties cannot make their system work, we of the C.C.F. are prepared to take on the job of clearing up the mess. There is a moment approaching very rapidly when it will be too late to decide calmly what should be done. On that day reason will be thrust aside and elemental passions will drive men to extremes. Our plan is designed to bridge the gulf between the chaos of to-day and an equitable system of to-morrow."

Mr. Bakewell described how co-operative movements had progressed in other countries. In Denmark and Great Britain, for instance, were examples of what co-operatives had done for agriculture.

CLAIMS CAPITALISM TOTTERING

He indicted the capitalist system generally. In Canada capitalism was on its last legs. Widespread misery and suffering when there is a surplus of all goods and services which human ingenuity has produced was sufficient to convict the system.

"At home and abroad this system of capitalism is having an awful time of it," he continued. "It has been responsible for bloodshed in Russia, Germany, France, Nicaragua, China, Austria, Mexico, South America and so on. It is gasping for breath in Italy, Germany, United States and Canada. Already controlled capitalism has taken on the death mask in Russia, Germany and Italy and is reaching out for it in the United States."

LOGGERS' STRIKE

Mr. Bakewell discussed the present strike of loggers at Campbell River at length, dealing with its relation to the industry as a whole. He quoted statistics on the rapid depletion of forests and over-development of the logging industry, which had resulted in low prices.

"This madcap policy in the lumber industry is attributable to the same cause as the severe policy pursued in every other industry," he said. "Namely, the necessity for meeting interest charges on borrowed capital."

He criticized the payment of low wages in logging, stating one mill on the Island had paid as low as ten cents an hour. Abroad British Columbia was cutting its prices to gain the market and this merely demonstrated the "childish absurdity of competition and resulting chaos in the markets of capitalism."

He went into detail on the claims of the striking loggers, declaring every investigation of the matter must add further evidence to support the strikers' stand. They were largely the victims of preventable mismanagement and it was the duty of the government to correct the situation.

SELECTIVE LOGGING

Mr. Bakewell also presented a strong argument for selective logging. Experiments in Oregon had proved it could be profitably done. He said, "If we had selective logging, we could have a steady supply of logs for the future supply. Patriotism, he declared, was no consideration in the calculation of United States capital in logging operations. In the camps as in the company towns, a Canadian or a white man meant no more than an Oriental."

Mr. Bakewell, who comes from Ocean Falls, scored the operation of company towns in the province as a throw-back to feudalism since the boss of a town controlled the subjects on the job and off the job. A parallel could be drawn in this to the Norman Conquest, because often the conqueror was a foreigner.

STATE PLANS FOR RESURVEY

Preparations for a resurvey of Victoria for fire insurance purposes, a move undertaken by the British Columbia Fire Insurance Underwriters every few years, were explained to Mayor David Leeming and Alderman Walter Lunney, chairman of the fire wardens, by D. S. McGregor, leader of the insurance group and his engineer to-day.

The two officials conferred with the civic leaders in the Mayor's office for some time to-day.

Victoria's chief interest in the survey is to secure a lower rate on insurance, a cause championed by the members of the council generally.

The survey will proceed forthwith.

What the MAGIC EYE is and how it operates

There are only four principal parts to the Magic Eye

- 1 A small electric bulb on one side of a "window".
- 2 A "window" consisting of two specially ground lenses with a very narrow space between them through which the oil is forced.
- 3 A photronic cell on the other side of the "window". It measures how much light comes through the "window" when the oil is passed between the lenses.
- 4 A dial on which a needle registers how much light has passed through the oil and consequently indicates how clean or dirty the oil may be.

Blue Ribbons Win Berth In Northwest Basketball Tournament

THE SPORTS MIRROR

Victoria Champs Whip Everett By Decisive Margin

Turn on Power to Defeat U.S. Squad 38 to 20 in Sudden-death Battle

ART CHAPMAN TOPS SCORERS

When the Pacific Northwest basketball tournament is held at Seattle, March 7, 8 and 9, Victoria's Blue Ribbons, national titleholders, will be in there battling for the honors and the right to be the northwest's representatives in the United States title tournament at Kansas City. The tea and coffee representatives earned their place in the Sound City play-off yesterday evening at the Victoria High School gym by turning back the Everett Shadoffs, 38 to 20. Playing before a large crowd, the Ribbons ran the Everett youngsters off their feet, and after gaining a 19 to 14 lead in the first half, the score was never close.

In the Seattle tournament the Ribbons will be up against seven other crack Pacific northwest clubs. The tournament is operated on a knockout system, with the teams being drawn for their games. A consolation series is also staged for the early loss. In order to grab the honors in this competition the local champions will have to play bang-up basketball. Two of the favored teams are Gilmore Oil, Seattle, and Union Oil, Portland.

TOO MUCH SPEED

Against Everett the Ribbons had too much speed and height. The visitors, composed of young players, showed lots of class and ball handling ability, but they were unable to stand up under the killing pace of Chuck Chapman and his boys. Everett called time-out twice, but the Ribbons turned it on, and the superior condition of the Victoria players was going to be a big edge. Shadoffs began to get excited and uncoiled several smart plays.

ART CHAPMAN LEADS

Art Chapman, playing as a wing forward, led the Victoria scorers with fifteen points, with Chuck Chapman following with twelve. Brown, who was the high scorer for Everett with eight points.

Although the Ribbons won by fifteen points, their play was not up to scratch. Their passing in the early stages was inclined to be wild, and numerous passing opportunities were passed up as the result of poor teamwork.

Everett got away to a 3 to 0 lead in the first four minutes on free throws. In the next four minutes, however, the Ribbons dropped in a free throw for the first point. The same player, Peden, broke a fast break and lifted in a pretty one-handed shot over his shoulder for points to tie the score. Art took the ball from the tip-off and canned a long one and the Ribbons began to get excited. They made a free shot good for Everett.

Chuck Chapman loomed in a long one and Peden counted with a free shot. Wahl got a free throw and a field goal, the latter when he was left wide open under the basket. Brown registered with another foul and the score was 8 to 8. Art Chapman went on another scoring rampage and two baskets in about as many minutes gave the Ribbons a four-point lead, and fourteen minutes gone.

APPEALS TO CROWD

At this stage Manager Ernie Cook of the Ribbons asked the crowd to cheer. The calls of Referee Abe Cohn, which Chapman contributed to, were points on a basket and free throw, while Brown broke a fast break and scored. Steffy picked off a rebound and scored, while Miller found the ring with a shot over the shoulder. Chuck Chapman dribbled through himself and made no mistake, while Art Chapman dropped in a free throw to make the count 19 to 14 in favor of Victoria.

With only fifteen seconds to go, Everett called time out for the second time.

The second half opened with Brown counting a free shot for Everett. Martin lifted in a "one-hander" for the Ribbons, while Wahl aimed a free throw for Everett. Three snappy baskets by Peden, A. Chapman and Martin gave the Ribbons a 27 to 16 lead. Ross added a point with a foul shot. With ten minutes gone Everett broke a fast break and scored. Brown got away from his check to snare Everett's first field goal of the half, but Peden discounted it at the basket end. The Ribbons called time out. Peden took a pass from Miller for a set-up. Everett called time out for the fourth time and had a technical foul called against them. Chuck Chapman missed the shot. For the remainder (Turn to Page 17, Col. 5)

B.C. Rugbys Open Invasion

Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif., Mar. 1.—British Columbia's all-star rugby team opened its California invasion here today, opposing the strong Stanford University fifteen in the first of four games it will play against San Francisco Bay region teams within the next ten days.

Led by Bob Normington, all-Canadian star, and the veteran captain Tommy Roxburgh, the invaders were figured to hand their less experienced but capable college opponents a defeat, but by a comparatively small margin.

PAY TRIBUTE TO J. MCGRAW

Hundreds Gather For Funeral of Former Manager of New York Giants

New York, March 1.—New Yorkers, to whom his name and baseball were synonymous, yesterday crowded St. Patrick's Cathedral to its doors to pay final tribute to John J. McGraw, manager of New York Giants for thirty years, who died Sunday after a week's illness.

Men who had fought with and against McGraw during his turbulent career as player, manager and manager of baseball, personages of the stage, the screen, the bar and official city life, made common cause with bleacher fans to do him final honors.

The great stone church on Fifth Avenue was filled and hundreds more stood in the cold outside, when the funeral cortege, under a motorcycle escort, arrived from suburban Pelham Manor, where his body had lain in state in the home to which he retired two years ago to live out his days removed from the strife of the ball diamond.

NOTABLES PRESENT

Honorary pallbearers were: William H. Terry, to whom McGraw turned over the management of the Giants in 1932, when his health first began to fail; George M. Cohan, Dewolf Hopper and Sam Harris, of the theatre; John McCormack, representative of all the national league clubs; Hans Lobert, old Giant player; newspapermen, who had covered many a Giant training camp; former Police Commissioner Edward P. Mulrooney and a half a hundred others.

Mrs. McGraw, her face veiled, was supported by her brother, Frank Sindall, and her nephew, Sindall Schuyler. Directly behind were McGraw's two sisters.

The field will be reduced in all five departments to-day and to-morrow. Finals in men's and women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles will be played Saturday. There was every chance that champions will tumble right and left.

DEFENDS TITLE

Douglas Grant, twenty-one-year-old Halifax star, started defence of his singles title this morning with the prospect of sudden defeat facing him all down the line. Charlie Jones, tall southpaw from Winnipeg, whom Grant soundly whipped in the 1933 final, was back for another try at the championship that has eluded him, one way or another, for five or six years. He is always dangerous.

Young Dick Birch, Vancouver, British Columbia singles champion; George Goodwin, Ottawa, and Rod Pelham, Toronto, Ontario champion; are other outstanding threats.

The women's champion, Ruth Robertson, must somehow get past Mrs. Anna Kier Patrick, Vancouver, to make it two straight. Mrs. Patrick, a terrific hitter at the net, won the championship in 1932 but did not defend last year, and Miss Robertson took it over.

The complete programme of events follows: One mile handicap, under 14; one mile handicap, under 16; two-mile handicap, under 18; one mile club championship and the Moody Cup race.

Vancouver, March 1.—University of British Columbia, winners of the Greater Vancouver Amateur Basketball Association League, and Province champions of the Burrard League, meet here to-night in the first of a three-out-of-five series for the lower mainland title.

Canadian Badminton Championship Opens

Dick Birch and Mrs. Patrick, B.C. Champions, Among Favored Contenders

Toronto, March 1.—About 400 racquets slashed feathered shuttles round the game room of the Badminton and Racquets Club here to-day in what has come to be one of Canada's largest sports events, the Canadian badminton championships. The competing field had gathered from Halifax and Vancouver and points between.

This was no venture for the church league star or the business man who plays for fun. Young men and young women who pound tennis balls all summer to keep in shape for badminton, which is now the ranking court game in Canada, are ranked in this tournament.

The field will be reduced in all five departments to-day and to-morrow. Finals in men's and women's singles and doubles and mixed doubles will be played Saturday. There was every chance that champions will tumble right and left.

Douglas Grant, twenty-one-year-old Halifax star, started defence of his singles title this morning with the prospect of sudden defeat facing him all down the line. ANGLING BODY TO ELECT OFFICERS

Officers of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association will be elected this evening at the annual meeting to be held in the Chamber of Commerce lounge room at 8 o'clock. Following the submission of annual reports and the general business session, films of Vancouver Island will be shown.

ICE GAME POSTPONED

Portland, March 1.—At the request of both teams the Portland-Edmonton hockey game scheduled for yesterday evening was postponed until to-night. A conflicting sport attraction here was given as the reason. Portland will play Calgary here Sunday night and wind up its season at Vancouver Monday, according to present arrangements.

FERRILL STANDS PAT

Greenboro, N.C., March 1.—Wesley Ferrill, Cleveland Indian pitcher, said yesterday he is still a holdout and will be, regardless of the number of contracts presented for his signature, until the club makes him a better offer than the $5,000 offered to date.

Long Hockey Reign Of Trail Is Ended

Holders of B.C. Championship For Seven Years Eliminated By Kimberley

Trail, Mar. 1.—After seven years of hockey supremacy in British Columbia in which titles were won in successive years, Trail Smoke Eaters passed out of the picture here yesterday evening. Kimberley Dynamiters fast stepping pluggers, ascend to the crown of West Kootenay titleholders by a 6 to 2 win over Trail. Kimberley won two straight play-off games at home, lost to Trail in overtime Tuesday, but came back to smother the Smoke Eaters.

It was Kimberley's game all the way and their win earns them the right to battle Vancouver Quakers for the B.C. title. The Dynamiters, led by Smiling Harry Brown, under management of Jack Pratt, took a two-goal lead in the first period. They increased it to a three-goal margin in the second when the score was 3-2.

Kimberley, Mar. 1.—Kimberley Dynamiters, conquerors of Trail Smoke Eaters in the semi-final of the British Columbia senior amateur hockey playoffs, and Vancouver Associated Quakers were enroute here to-day for a three-out-of-five series for the provincial championship and the right to seek Allan Cup laurels in the inter-provincial playdowns.

Originally billed for Trail, perennial coast province champions, who were eliminated by Dynamiters at Trail yesterday evening for the first time in eight years, the final was switched here. Quakers, on their way to Trail, were notified at Castlegar yesterday evening and continued on to Kimberley.

If Quakers are in condition after their train journey the final series will open here to-morrow night. Otherwise the first game will be played Saturday with the remaining games scheduled for March 5, 7, 8 and 9.

Calgary, Mar. 1.—In the first game of the Allan Cup, yesterday evening, Edmonton Athletic Club and Calgary Jimmies played thirty minutes overtime on soft ice to a 2 to 2 tie. Remaining games in the series will be played in Edmonton.

Edmonton's markers came from the sticks of Watt and M. Tristram. Gordon Langley notched both Jimmies' goals.

Montreal, Mar. 1.—McGill University, blaring a trail towards a try at the Allan Cup, yesterday evening past Verdun Maple Leafs in the city senior play-offs, defeating Maple Leafs 4 to 3 in the second of a two-game, total-goal series. Verdun took the round 7 to 5 and qualified to meet Canadians in the two-game, total-goal series for the city title.

Moncton, Mar. 1.—The curtain dropped on the Maritime Big Four hockey league schedule here yesterday evening. All-Quebecers took a postponed league engagement from Saint John Beavers 7 to 1. The Allan Cup champions were in great form and swept through the Beavers at will.

Halifax, Mar. 1.—Halifax Wolverines, who placed second in the Maritime hockey league, drew first blood in the play-off series here yesterday evening by defeating Charlottetown Abegweits, holders of third position 6 to 2. It was the first match in a two-out-of-three game series for the right to meet Moncton Hawks for the league title.

REFUSED TRAMPERS

"President Tom Mitchell of the Saskatchewan Amateur Hockey Association, who has refused to grant transfers to sanction transfer of these three players after their clubs had given their approval," said Jeffery. He added that he was at a loss to understand why transfer had been refused by the Saskatchewan body. No explanation had been given beyond that Mitchell was not satisfied that the transfers were bona fide. Jeffery, was of the opinion that an examination could not fail to show that they were bona fide.

He said he was flooded with telegrams from the management and sponsors of the Trail Hockey Club, eliminated yesterday evening by Kimberley, and from Trail fans, asking that he do his utmost to secure the transfers of the three Kimberley players. These telegrams had been received while Trail was still in the playoff fight against Kimberley.

Jeffery is still hopeful that the Saskatchewan president will reconsider his stand.

Saskatoon, March 1.—According to Paul Carpenter, secretary of the Saskatchewan Amateur Hockey Association, that body will definitely not grant transfers to Moore Redding and McGillivray of the Kimberley Dynamiters.

Carpenter made the statement after receiving the views of Don Mitchell, S.A.H.A. president, Weyburn, on the British Columbia application.

HELEN JACOBS WINS TENNIS

Defeats Dorothy Round 6-4, 6-1 in Final For Jamaica Championship

Kingston, Jamaica, March 1.—Helen Jacobs, Berkeley, Calif., top ranking United States woman tennis player, defeated Dorothy Round, English star, 6-4, 6-1, in the final round of the international tennis tournament yesterday.

Mrs. Round put up a stiff struggle in the first set, recovering once after Miss Jacobs had her at set point with the score 5-3, but she was completely beaten by the California girl's chop stroke in the second.

The Jamaica team of H. Hayes and Donald Lecky, won the men's doubles title with a surprising victory over George M. Lott, Chicago, a "first ten" player in the United States, and Lindo, 7-5, 6-3, 1-6, 6-6.

Paul Ruyana Wins Florida Tourney

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 1.—Wind swept the Pasadena course yesterday, but failed to hamper Paul Ruyana, New York, who equaled par with a 71, which he put with Tuesday's 69 for a thirty-six-hole total of 141, to carry off $200 in prize money, along with golf championship.

Displaying championship form, Paul Ruyana, former city billiard champion, advanced to the next round of the current tournament yesterday evening at the Metropolitan Club when he defeated Bob Burns, 400 to 285 in a first round match.

In the only game slated this evening, Edwards will meet T. Dunlop at 8 o'clock.

Fox offered Sliding Wage

Fort Myers, Fla., Mar. 1.—Compt Mack, manager of Philadelphia Athletics, has offered Jimmy Fox a sliding salary scale which would bring the home run king from $15,000 to $25,000 for the season. Fox agreed to consider the offer. Based on attendance at Shibe Park, the home diamond of the Athletics, the proposal represents a compromise between the $11,000 which Mack offered Fox and what the slugger thinks he is worth. Under the plan Fox would receive the $15,000 as basic pay, and the rest as attendance rose. The $25,000 would be paid if attendance reached 1,000,000.

KIMBERLEY IN TROUBLE

Ineligibility of Players May Cause Disqualification in Hockey Play-offs

Vancouver, March 1.—Kimberley Dynamiters, finalists in the British Columbia senior amateur hockey championships, to-day faced disqualification, and Art Jeffery, president of the British Columbia Amateur Hockey Association, appealed to the similar body in Saskatchewan to rectify what he considered an injustice.

Three Kimberley players, Ken Moore, G. B. McGilvray and W. Redding, former Saskatchewan players, came to Kimberley to work last summer, and accordingly do not qualify under the residence rule of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

Jeffery stated, however, that in a bona fide case the Dominion rule allowed, at some latitude, and these men, he declared, were not "hockey tramps" in any sense of the word, but had secured legitimate positions in Kimberley.

"President Tom Mitchell of the Saskatchewan Amateur Hockey Association, who has refused to grant transfers to sanction transfer of these three players after their clubs had given their approval," said Jeffery. He added that he was at a loss to understand why transfer had been refused by the Saskatchewan body. No explanation had been given beyond that Mitchell was not satisfied that the transfers were bona fide.

Paul Ruyana Wins Florida Tourney

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 1.—Wind swept the Pasadena course yesterday, but failed to hamper Paul Ruyana, New York, who equaled par with a 71, which he put with Tuesday's 69 for a thirty-six-hole total of 141, to carry off $200 in prize money, along with golf championship.

Displaying championship form, Paul Ruyana, former city billiard champion, advanced to the next round of the current tournament yesterday evening at the Metropolitan Club when he defeated Bob Burns, 400 to 285 in a first round match.

In the only game slated this evening, Edwards will meet T. Dunlop at 8 o'clock.

Spencers Held To Draw By Maccabees

Teams Battle to 2 to 2 Score on Mud Covered Field; Bays Whip Liberals

Spencer's chances of lifting the prized Pender Cup, emblematic of the Western Football League championship, do not look so bright to-day. Yesterday afternoon at Central Park the diamond was a muddy mess, and the teams were held to a two-all draw by a fighting Maccabee's eleven. Garrison, former joint occupant of the top berth with Spencer, were forced into idleness when their scheduled fixture with the Navy was cancelled by the referee, and as a result must be content with second place in the league standings for the first time this season. However, the Maccabees have a game in hand, and while they are one point behind Spencer, are in a better position to lift the cup. In the only other fixture played, Hudson's Bay blanked the James Bay Liberals 3 to 0 at Beacon Hill, the game being called about fifteen minutes after the second half on account of the heavy rain.

BATTLE TO DRAW
Playing in a continuous downpour and on a field of mud and water, which made good football out of the question, Spencer and the Maccabees scored two goals apiece to finish all square, at Central Park. The diamond was a muddy mess, and the teams were held to a two-all draw by a fighting Maccabee's eleven. Garrison, former joint occupant of the top berth with Spencer, were forced into idleness when their scheduled fixture with the Navy was cancelled by the referee, and as a result must be content with second place in the league standings for the first time this season. However, the Maccabees have a game in hand, and while they are one point behind Spencer, are in a better position to lift the cup. In the only other fixture played, Hudson's Bay blanked the James Bay Liberals 3 to 0 at Beacon Hill, the game being called about fifteen minutes after the second half on account of the heavy rain.

Opening on the offensive, Spencer scored in the first five minutes of play when Wilbur, Maccabee's goalie, tumbled the ball after Browne had sent in a long shot from the right wing. Play favored the departmental store representatives for the next twenty minutes but they failed to add to their total.

Maccabees broke fast on two or three occasions but their finish in front of the goal was exceptionally weak and good chances of tying the score were wasted.

WILSON SCORES
Taking the upper hand late in the first half, Spencer made it 2 to 0 when Wilson scored with a first-time shot after McKinnon had centred nicely. The half-time whistle sounded with no further scoring.

Staging a strong offensive shortly after the resumption, Maccabees netted their first marker when Robert closed in from the rebound from Tommy Graves's shot and beat McKinnon, Spencer's net custodian, all the way.

MACCABEES TIE SCORE
Spencer staged a number of dangerous attacks in an effort to further increase their lead, but failed. Play swung to the other end of the field with the Maccabees' forwards giving the diamond a defence plenty of worry. After one or two close calls, Tommy Graves put the finishing touches on a fine combination play when he accepted a short pass from Wally Graves and beat McKinnon with a low shot, making the score two-all.

Realizing that even a draw would hurt their chances of winning the league championship, Spencer threw everything they had into a final bombardment of their opponents' net. For fully fifteen minutes they kept the clubmen fairly well hemmed in their own half of the field, but failed to score the winning tally. Shrimpton refereed.

THE TEAMS:
Spencer—McMillan, Munro, Cann, D. Bradley, Russell, L. Bradley, Browne, Wilson, Clarke, Luxton and McKinnon.

Maccabees—Wilbur, Bridges, Speller, Fieldhouse, Woodley, Hill, Woodcock, Roberts, T. Graves, W. Graves and Newell.

BAYS DEFEAT LIBERALS
In a mediocre exhibition at Beacon Hill, the Hudson's Bay defeated James Bay Liberals, 3 to 0. Don Fish, bustling forward of the departmental store eleven, garnered the only tally of the initial half when he beat Bourne, Liberals' goalie, ten minutes from the start of the game, with a hot drive.

Changing ends without the usual interval, Hudson's Bay made the score 2 to 0 when Bentley's shot deflected off the head of McDonald. James Bay fullback, and found the net. Howard Johnson completed the scoring shortly after when he banged the ball into the goal after Bourne had saved from Bentley.

With the rain still pouring down and the players soaked to the skin, the referee, with the consent of the clubs, called the game.

THE TEAMS WERE:
Hudson's Bay—McMillan, O'Connell, Wyatt, Doherty, Oakman, Men-

Trout Fishing Season Opens

Trout fishing in the majority of lakes and streams in British Columbia becomes lawful to-day, and while high water exists in many places, it is expected there will be the usual first-day flurry. At Shawinigan Lake and stream running from lake into the sea, trout fishing does not open until April 1, one month from to-day.

TEAMS: Fish, Scott, Johnson, Bentley and Collier.

James Bay Liberals—Bourne, McDonald, A. McBride, Belford, O'Brien, M. Bird, Miller, Thame, Crawford, Sadler and Morris.

CANADIENS TO MEET BRUINS

Habitants Invade Boston For Hockey Game To-night; Rangers Battle Chicago

Two games they hope will form stepping stones to playoff security faced Montreal Canadiens to-day as they strode confidently into Boston, home of the once mighty Bruins.

The Habitants, in the National Hockey League Canadian division's third spot now by a comfortable margin, figure they can take wins from the Bruins to-night and Saturday at Montreal go four full games up on New York Americans.

Joe Simpson's team, chief threat for some time to Canadian ambitions, must sit idle and watch the Montrealers' efforts to leave them far behind. They do not get into action again until Sunday night when they play Ottawa Senators in New York.

All three leading teams in the United States section also work to-night. Detroit against Montreal Maroons in Detroit and New York Rangers against Black Hawks in Chicago.

The four games are half of the slim group to be played before next Tuesday. Saturday night only the Boston-Canadian and Detroit-Toronto games are scheduled for Sunday night. The Bruins meet Chicago in the only contest besides the Ottawa-American game.

A workout of Victoria City first and second division soccer teams will be held to-night at the Veterans of France at 8 o'clock. All players are asked to attend.

WANT CANADA TO CHALLENGE

U.S. Motorboat Interests Desire Canadians to Seek Harnsworth Trophy

New York, March 1.—J. Lee Barrett, secretary of the Yachtmen's Association of America, holder of the Harnsworth Trophy, to-day was in New York attempting to get Canadian motorboat interests to reconsider their previous decision and challenge Gar Wood this year.

Harry Greening, leading Canadian motorboat enthusiast, also was in the city, but whether the two had been able to reach an understanding was not immediately learned.

There is said to be a possibility Canada will renew its challenge, withdrawn two days ago.

Inability of Hubert Scott-Paine to procure suitable motors for his challenger is said to have led to his decision not to compete this year. He drove against Wood last year unsuccessfully with a boat of new design, but it was underpowered, and he knew it was useless to come to the United States again unless he could secure more powerful engines.

Andrew Ponzi Is Billiard Champ

New York, March 1.—Andrew Ponzi, Philadelphia, won the world pocket billiard championship from Erwin Rudolph, Cleveland, yesterday evening, defeating the defending titleholder, 750 to 607, in a challenge match played in six blocks. The 750 points were made in sixty-four innings.

HOCKEY GAME DECIDED 19-1

Toronto, March 1.—St. Michael's College team of Toronto and Stratford Midgits are the finalists for the Junior Ontario Hockey Association Cup. The first game will be played here Saturday afternoon and the second in Stratford next Wednesday with a third game, if necessary, to be played in Toronto.

The brilliant St. Mike's entered the finals by defeating York Rangers at Toronto yesterday evening, 7 to 3, capturing the two-game total-goal series, 13 to 3. Meanwhile Midgits walloped Windsor Wanderers at Stratford, 19 to 1, to capture the round by the lopsided score of 19 to 1.

Another Stratford aggregation is fighting for honors in the senior B circuit. They face Galt Terriers in the finals of group number one. Galt yesterday evening earned the right to enter the finals by defeating Brantford, 8 to 6.

The St. Mike's-Stratford Midgits' series promises to be a ding-dong struggle. St. Mike's have lost only at Toronto, and have won only one game this season and Midgits' showing against Windsor Wanderers, a pretty good junior aggregation, left no doubt of their ability.

LEBAN TAKES NOSE VERDICT

Scores Close Victory in Feature Event on Card at Agua Caliente Track

Agua Caliente, Mar. 1.—Apprentice Mack Winters, leading rider in point of winning mounts at this winter race meeting, brought Leban, racing for W. A. Mikel, home in front in the feature race this afternoon. The margin was a nose, gained when Winters outdressed Apprentice C. Rosen-garten in the final sixteenth.

Rushing into a good lead in the early part of the six-furlong sprint, Leban tired in the final sixteenth and just lasted with Winters' help to win.

Alcohol got the place and Brains the show. Leban ran the sprint in 1:11 3-8 over a fast track.

Marcelita, nominee for the Agua Caliente Derby, which is to be run next Sunday, made fast time in a prep against the watches yesterday. The filly ran six furlongs in 1:12 and the mile in 1:38 3-8, finishing handsily. Marcelita races for the Meadowbrook Stable.

Light Purchasing Steadies Grains On Winnipeg Exchange

Winnipeg, March 1.—Buyers entered the wheat pit on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange around mid-session today as quotations faltered and the light purchasing movement steadied values. Closing figures were unchanged.

It was hard to trace the source of the support. May wheat closed at 67½, and July wheat at 69 cents.

Trading was very routine. Prices softened early on selling of a mixed character. The offerings were engendered by bearish private reports on the United States winter wheat crop.

Purchasing of an undetermined nature was encountered at the low points however, and prices reacted to stand about ½ higher for the last half of the session. Export sales were at a minimum.

Chicago was off about ½ cent in the late stages. Liverpool wheat ended ¼ to ½ higher.

Black Sea wheat shipments for the week totaled only 24,000 bushels compared with no movement a year ago. There were no Russian exports. Estimated Argentine shipments for the week are nearly 3,000,000 bushels compared with 2,250,000 bushels a year ago.

Cash and coarse grains trading was desultory.

Chicago, March 1 (Associated Press).—Lower prices on wheat formed the rule to-day, largely as a result of March 1 bearish estimates on the condition of domestic winter wheat.

Wheat closed unsettled, ¼ to ½ lower, corn unchanged to ½ higher, oats ¼ to ½ down, and provisions unchanged.

Close At Wall St. Mart Steady After Late Buying Rally

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

THURSDAY, MARCH 1

By Jenks, Gwynne & Co.

Canadian Press
 New York, March 1.—Stocks dipped and rallied nervously to-day. Support was forthcoming in the last hour and the list, with a few exceptions, managed to close fairly steady. Dullness ruled throughout and sentiment was slightly tinged with bearishness despite indications of continued industrial improvement. Transfers approximated 1,350,000 shares.

Wheat, sugar and cotton and other commodities were hesitant. Bonds were mixed. Foreign exchanges showed no disposition to move out of a rather narrow groove.

Securities of Canadian companies fluctuated narrowly. Day and Canadian Pacific were about unchanged while McIntyre and International Nickel each sold a shade lower. Dominion Government was improved ¼ point.

Shares of the J. C. Penny Co. got up nearly 3 points following publication of an excellent 1933 earnings statement. Some of the amusement group, including Loew's and Pathe, again bucked the trend with gains of fractions to a point. U.S. Smelting dropped 4 and Allied Chemical 2. Most tobaccos were off a point or more. Motors eased and utilities were difficult. Ralls were fairly steady. U.S. Steel, American Telephone, Du Pont, American Can, Western Union, Johnsonville, American Smelting, United Aircraft and others were down fractionally to around a point.

SENIOR GOLDS CLOSE HIGHER

Toronto, March 1 (Canadian Press).—Excepting some gold shares, mining stocks moved indefinitely to-day. Senior golds closed higher on good late buying, while base metals were generally steady and silver stocks strong.

Premier, in demand, gained ¾ to 1 1/2. Eldorado closed 10¢ up at 3.40. Bear Exploration weakened about 3¢ to 66. Hudson Bay and Noranda were unchanged.

A Mystery Novel

"Here, take a chair," said Anderson, resuming his own place and motioning Cleveland to a seat. For indeed the man seemed on the verge of collapse.

"Since you've been good enough to come, perhaps you will tell me something of the Paige," began Anderson, abruptly changing the line of conversation. "How long have you known them?"

"Bunny ever since he was a baby," answered Mr. Cleveland. "His father and I were college mates. His wife, of course, only since her marriage. She was the sweetest—the loveliest—his voice broke."

"I suppose you have no idea who is responsible?"

"Not the slightest."

"When did you see Mrs. Paige last?"

"Bunny?" Cleveland drew out a case of cigarettes and lighted one with shaking hands. So great was his perturbation that he failed to offer any of us one—a great oversight in one of his faultless breeding. "Let me see—I saw Sunny last—oh, I can't fix the date exactly but it was at a tea here in the summer. I should judge about six weeks ago, maybe longer."

"What do you know of Mrs. Phelps?" shot Anderson, the detective.

To my surprise, Cleveland flushed a dull red.

"Mrs. Phelps?" he repeated. "Well, not a whole lot. I met her once—here at that very tea, I believe—but I've often heard Sunny speak of her as an intimate friend. I think they were very devoted to each other. But I don't know her at all, although it happens that we are neighbors. My house is located only a couple of miles from here, you know. I doubt that I should recognize her again. But surely you don't suspect her?"

"I suspect everybody and nobody," replied Anderson. "I'm merely seeking information, and surely you, of all people, must realize that general questions like these are merely a matter of form and are entirely fitting and proper under the circumstances."

"Of course, of course," murmured Cleveland, again mopping his brow. "I'm terribly distressed by this dreadful affair!"

"That's natural," responded Anderson sympathetically. "Now, Mr. Cleveland, I can see that this conversation is upsetting you very much. Suppose we let it drop and after the funeral perhaps we can have another talk. Meantime, if you really want to help your friend, remember what I said about Kirk Judson and influence Mr. Paige to seek help elsewhere. I'm not joking or speaking lightly when I tell you that this is the worst possible move that he could have made."

"I'll do what you say," began Cleveland. "Thank you, Inspector, for talking to me and for being so frank. I'll see you soon again when I'm more myself."

He bowed abruptly and left the room. A moment later, watching him from the window, I saw him plunge out into the driving rain oblivious of the umbrella which he left behind on the hearth.

"A queer duck," I said.

"Terribly cut up over the thing," said Dickey Carroll.

But Anderson had a puzzled expression on his face as if he didn't get the combination at all.

We were interrupted by a sharp knock on the door and, scarcely waiting for a reply, an officer in plain clothes stepped in and handed the Inspector an envelope. Anderson ripped it open, gave a hasty glance at its contents, and then flung himself out of his chair with such violence that it overturned and crashed on the polished floor.

"My God!" we heard him murmur under his breath. Then to the officer.

"Get my car to the door without delay. Remember every second is precious. Come, boys, that dirty car is double-crossing us! Grab your hats and let's be off!"

Uncle Wiggly Gets In

By HOWARD R. GARIS

Uncle Wiggly, standing on his bungalow back stoop, being locked out so that neither he nor his tramp friend, Raggle, could get in, looked down the path toward the front yard. Mrs. Puff, a strange pig lady who was in the bungalow while Mrs. Longears and Nurse Jane were out shopping, had just told Uncle Wiggly to hop away or she would call the Police Dog. She wouldn't believe Uncle Wiggly was Uncle Wiggly because he had on an old ragged suit and looked like a tramp.

"Did you say someone was coming?" said Mr. Longears. "And I only hope it's my wife or Nurse Jane. Either one of them can tell this queer Mrs. Puff that I am Uncle Wiggly, even if I have on a ragged suit; and that I have a right to get into my own bungalow."

"I should hope so," said Raggle. "But I don't see your wife or Nurse Jane, whom I had the pleasure of meeting when I stayed with you for a few days. Unless my eyes are playing me tricks, I see a pig lady coming this way."

"Oh, my goodness!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggly. "Can it be this strange Mrs. Puff who has jumped out of a window?"

"It's a pig lady with a green hat that has red flowers on it," said Raggle.

"Then it must be Mrs. Twistytail, the wife of Twisty, my fat gentleman pig," said Uncle Wiggly.

"Who else may Mrs. Twistytail be?" asked Raggle, as the second lady pig came waddling through the snow up the side path to the back door of the hollow stump bungalow.

"For one thing," said Uncle Wiggly, "she is a second cousin to the strange Mrs. Puff who is inside my bungalow and who will not let me in though I have told her I am Uncle Wiggly."

"And what did she say when you told her you were Uncle Wiggly?" asked Raggle.

"She said, 'I couldn't be,' spoke Mr. Longears, 'because I was off on a tramp with you.'"

"She didn't know we had come back because you didn't like begging for food or being chased by dogs?" laughed Raggle. "Well, we shall see what Mrs. Twistytail has to say."

Mrs. Twistytail waddled around to the bungalow back door. When she saw Uncle Wiggly standing there, she asked, "What do you want?"

"I mean," said Uncle Wiggly, "that I am locked out of my own bungalow!"

"Oh, my goodness!" grunted Mrs. Twistytail. "How did it happen?"

Uncle Wiggly told her how he had gone off tramping with Raggles and how they had come back to find a strange pig lady in the bungalow.

"She is Mrs. Puff," said Uncle Wiggly.

"And what I'd like to know," said Raggle, "is why Puff?"

"Because that's what she does," grunted Mrs. Twistytail. "Please explain," begged Uncle Wiggly.

"Well, you see it's this way," explained Mrs. Twistytail. "This Mrs. Puff is my second cousin. She goes about staying as a sort of helper in houses where the lady or the housekeeper, like Nurse Jane, must go out and can't be home to open the doors if the children come home from school a bit early. When your wife, Uncle Wiggly, told me she and Nurse Jane wanted to go shopping and that you wouldn't be home because you were off tramping with Raggle, I said to get Mrs. Puff in to mind the bungalow for a while."

"So that's how Mrs. Puff came to be in my bungalow?" asked Mr. Longears.

"Yes, that's how," said Mrs. Twistytail. "I was just coming over to see how she was making out. And here I am."

"And you're just in time," said Uncle Wiggly, "to tell this queer Mrs. Puff that I am Uncle Wiggly and that Raggle and I were here to get in, get warm and get something to eat."

"I'll tell her," said Mrs. Twistytail. "So she knocked on the door and Mrs. Puff, knowing the voice of her second cousin, opened the bungalow and Uncle Wiggly got in at last, with Raggle."

"I hope it's all right," grunted Mrs. Puff, doubtful.

"Oh, yes, it is," grunted Mrs. Twistytail.

And then something else happened. I'll tell you about it to-morrow night when the story will be about Uncle Wiggly having fun.

And I think it will be very jolly if the milkman's horse will leave a loaf of bread instead of an apple pie as the shoemaker's.

SS. TALITHYBIUS COMING AGAIN

Ship Formerly in This Service Will Replace the Proteus on North Pacific

After an absence of more than four years, the Blue Funnel liner Talithybius will return to service on the North Pacific, connecting Victoria with ports in the Orient, during the early summer months, according to word received in Victoria this morning from Dowell and Company, general agents in British Columbia. The Talithybius will replace the Proteus.

The Talithybius maintained a regular schedule from this port until late in 1929, when she was dispatched to the United Kingdom for overhaul and general refit. Due to adverse trade conditions, her place was not filled for a time, but two years ago the motorship Tantalus was sent to assist the steamers Tyndareus, Proteus and Ision in establishing a service every three weeks from north-west ports to Yokohama, Kobe, Manila, Shanghai and Hongkong.

The Talithybius is a coal-burning vessel of twin screw propulsion, and is registered at 10,234 gross tons. The Proteus is now on her way to the Orient and will return here late in April to make her farewell sailing from this coast, the Talithybius taking over her schedule in the Orient and returning here early in June.

It has not yet been stated on which route the Proteus will be commissioned, but she will probably be sent first to London for overhaul. The Blue Funnel Line has world-wide service every three weeks from north-west ports to Yokohama, Kobe, Manila, Shanghai and Hongkong.

WANT ALBERNI DOCK LARGER

Dominion Government Asked to Make It Large Enough to Accommodate Two Ships

Vancouver, March 1.—Furness (Pacific) Ltd., via Pacific Reliance, Captain H. J. Young, arrived yesterday and has a fair parcel of United Kingdom mail and continental general freight to discharge. Mrs. Vernon Newson was a passenger on the vessel from Los Angeles.

Vancouver Chamber of Shipping is requesting the Dominion Department of Public Works to enlarge the government pier at Alberni sufficiently to accommodate two deep-sea ships at one time. Increased trade at the West Coast lumber port warrants this request for immediate development, it is stated.

Canadian Transport Co. Ltd., reports Vancouver-St. Lawrence Line Ma. Lucia, will sail March 15 from Halifax for Vancouver.

B. W. Greer and Son, Ltd., reports Isithman Line St. Memphis City, arrived yesterday and berthed at pier A to load for United Kingdom ports.

Dingwall Cotts reports the Hamburg-American Line Ma. San Francisco out for Europe via Pacific Coast ports. The Silver-Java Pacific Ma. Silverash, is due this afternoon and will berth at Ballantyne pier.

Ex-customs Man Passes

Nanaimo, March 1.—Henry L. Good, customs collector here for many years and superannuated March 31, 1932, died in hospital here yesterday evening after a collapse in the business office in the Herald Building.

Born in England in 1863 Mr. Good came to Canada when nine years old and to Nanaimo in 1890, after a time as Dominion telegraph operator in the interior during C.P.R. construction. He was in charge of the E. and N. station here and joined the customs department in 1895, being made collector in 1915.

He is survived by a widow, two sons and two grandsons in the Nanaimo office in the Herald Building. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Three Pilots Crossing the Atlantic By Ss. Olympic and Will Later Proceed to Alaska to Aid Stranded Party in Bering Sea

Moscow, March 1.—Three of Soviet Russia's foremost Arctic fliers are en route to the United States to-day to participate, if necessary, in the rescue of 101 persons stranded on ice floes in the Bering Sea.

The pilots, who may work from Alaska, were S. A. Lavenyevsky, who flew to the aid of the United States aviator James J. Matern, forced down at Anadyr last summer on his flight around the world; G. A. Yashkov, and M. Slepnev. They were aboard the liner Olympic, bound for New York, an official dispatch.

Soviet planes, steamers and dog teams have been attempting to rescue the stranded party in the Bering Sea ever since their ship, the Chelousk, became ice-bound as they were on their way back from Wrangel Island.

The fliers had orders to proceed to Washington and await instructions from Moscow. They did not carry their own planes and probably will rely on United States machines.

V. V. Kuybyshev, vice-president of the United Council of People's Commissars, made the announcement from his office in the Kremlin, where he is directing rescue operations as chief of the government commission appointed for that purpose.

He said the government had requested assistance "had not been asked," but indicated any help from United States quarters would be received gratefully by the Soviet government.

TWO ORIENT LINERS DUE

SENDS MAIL FROM BOUVET

Admiral Evans Stamps Letters With Postmark of Lonely Island

Cape Town, March 1.—Postage stamps issued for transmission via New York to the treasure of collectors following the successful venture of Admiral E. R. G. Evans, British naval hero and explorer, to Bouvet Island in the far south Atlantic.

Evans returned yesterday aboard the a-sloop Milford after an adventurous voyage to the uninhabited, little-known island which was discovered 200 years ago, lost, and then re-discovered, with its exact situation still hitherto vague.

On account of stormy weather the Admiral was unable to land on the rocky little outpost, but the waters around it to a distance of three miles are Norwegian territory, so once the Milford was anchored in an inlet she constituted herself a Norwegian post office.

Evans had taken a supply of Norwegian stamps with him, and with the Milford in position he attached them to numerous letters and cancelled them with a rubber stamp, bringing them back to Cape Town.

NEW PORT FACILITIES OPEN AT SAINT JOHN

Canadian Press
St. John, March 1.—"This port is typical of all that is Canadian," Prime Minister Bennett declared yesterday at the formal opening of new harbor facilities constructed at a cost of $10,500,000. The courage and faith leading to the present stage of St. John port development was common throughout the Dominion, and had been responsible for Canada taking fifth place among exporting countries of the world, he said.

En route back to Ottawa in the evening after a few hours' stay here, the Prime Minister left behind a picture of the Canadian trade situation and an intimation that steps might be taken, "within the next few months," towards rebuilding four berths in the harbor here, destroyed by fire in 1931.

More than 300 men, many prominent in the transportation and commercial life of Canada, gathered for luncheon aboard the Canadian Pacific steamship Duchess of York, first passenger line to use the new pier.

POLISH SHIP IS SINKING

Passengers Removed By Salvage Vessel After Ship Strikes Rock

Helsingfors, Finland, March 1.—The salvage vessel Juusekarras succeeded early to-day in taking off the fifty passengers from the stricken Polish steamer Zarni, sinking in a rough sea off Macellot Island.

SOC. calls were flashed from the vessel when she struck the rocks yesterday evening. Later, wireless messages said the Zarni was in a critical position, a hole in her hull, the engine room flooded and the engines stopped.

Other messages told of attempts by the crew to launch lifeboats in the darkness which came with the extinguishing of all lights after the stoppage of auxiliaries.

Several Estonian athletes on their way to Helsingfors were among the passengers.

NEW PORT FACILITIES OPEN AT SAINT JOHN

Canadian Press
St. John, March 1.—"This port is typical of all that is Canadian," Prime Minister Bennett declared yesterday at the formal opening of new harbor facilities constructed at a cost of $10,500,000. The courage and faith leading to the present stage of St. John port development was common throughout the Dominion, and had been responsible for Canada taking fifth place among exporting countries of the world, he said.

En route back to Ottawa in the evening after a few hours' stay here, the Prime Minister left behind a picture of the Canadian trade situation and an intimation that steps might be taken, "within the next few months," towards rebuilding four berths in the harbor here, destroyed by fire in 1931.

More than 300 men, many prominent in the transportation and commercial life of Canada, gathered for luncheon aboard the Canadian Pacific steamship Duchess of York, first passenger line to use the new pier.

GREGALIA DUE THIS EVENING

Freighter Reached Seattle This Morning With Record Cargo of Bananas

After a fast run up the coast from San Francisco, the Donaldson freighter Gregalia, commanded by Capt. H. C. Bell, reached Seattle early this morning and is expected at Victoria late this evening. It was announced by A. E. Shanks of Hithet Consolidated Limited, local agents. The ship took to Seattle one of the largest single shipments of bananas ever discharged in the northwest. She had several thousand stems, which she took aboard at Puerto Armales.

On account of her fourteen-knot average from San Francisco, the Gregalia was slightly ahead of schedule and met the Modavia, Capt. W. E. Mitchell, in Seattle this morning. The Modavia left for England a short time after the Gregalia docked.

The Gregalia is bringing a light parcel of general cargo, including bananas, for discharge in Victoria. Before proceeding to Vancouver she will load a small parcel of Vancouver Island lumber for the London market. She will be at the Rithet piers.

After discharging and loading in Vancouver the Gregalia will return to Seattle and load fresh fruit, plywood, canned goods and general cargo. About 40,000 boxes of apples will go aboard the ship at Puget Sound ports.

THREE SHIPS LOAD LUMBER

Choyo Maru, Monkleigh and Bright Star Here To-day; Tiansaren and Everleigh Due

Three lumber ships kept the Ogden Point piers busy this morning, and a longshoremen worked at top speed to finish two of the ships and have them on their way to sea this afternoon. Two more lumber carriers are expected to-morrow.

The Japanese freighter Choyo Maru, which took 880,000 feet at this port, left the docks at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon and headed for sea, en route to Japan.

At 6 o'clock this evening the Ss. Bright Star, formerly one of the Canadian government freighters, was scheduled to put to sea with a large cargo of British Columbia lumber. While here the Bright Star was surveyed by deep-sea divers to ascertain if any damage was done her bottom when she touched off Nanaimo the other day.
